Increased Income Tax Considered

City Council Fails To Initiate Austerity Program

The big story of Circleville City Council Tuesday was what the city's legislative body failed to do, not what they did.

Anticipated legislation authorizing an austerity program for the remainder of the year did not reach the desk of Clerk Robert Shadley. The city is faced with a projected $25,000 deficit at the end of the year.

The city may be faced with increased income tax because the austerity program was not initiated.

Legislation approved in either Thieu supporters or inde-

Service Director Atwood Jones to have plans and specifications drawn for curbs and gutters on Atwater Ave. between Wilson Ave. and Morris Road and to proceed with an assessment project to pay for the work; an ordinance transferring $1,400 from the city income tax fund to the refund account to pay back to Super Duper Store an overpayment.

MONDAY night Mayor Richard Gerhardt in a meeting with council, City Auditor Marvin Turner and City Treasurer Everett Stocklen had presented the city's financial status. Two alternatives were discussed — increase taxes or cutback expenditures.

The mayor at that meeting asked council to make recommendations so the city could balance the budget at the end of the year. Several steps were agreed upon.

It was recommended that three civilian employees of the city police department be laid off temporarily. It was also recommended that one classified member of the department, the patrolman with the least amount of service, also be temporarily dismissed and that no one be hired to fill the vacancy of a patrolman who has resigned or the position of meter attendant.

Parttime help in the city health department and the Municipal Court were to be dismissed for the remainder of the year. All departments which receive operating monies from the general fund were asked to keep expenditures for the rest of 1971 to an absolute minimum.

Council also asked Auditor Marvin Turner not to pay the city's share of the police and firemen's retirement fund when it comes due in November, an amount of $5,000.

If all proposed operating cuts would have been authorized by council Tuesday, estimated savings would have been between $21,000 and $22,000, which would still have left the city with a projected deficit of between $3,000 and $4,000.

MAYOR Gerhardt was asked by council at the special session to inform the various departments of the austerity plans.

Meanwhile, efforts were made to place the persons to be afected by the layoff in city departments not hit by the austerity program and in private industry.

One local manufacturing firm had indicated it would provide a temporary job of three to four months duration for the policeman. The Department of Public Utilities and the Department of Public Service both indicated they could absorb the other workers until the first of the year when the financial crisis would be over.

At that time, present plans called for those dismissed because of the austerity program to be rehired.

However, council apparently backed down on the austerity program because of opposition. Police had secured private council, attorneys Harry Margulis and Steve Gussler, to represent them should the employees be dismissed.

Council chambers were packed by citizens and businessmen, most of whom were opposed to reducing the power of the police department.

COUNCILMEN attending the Monday session were David

Goldschmidt, Keith Wagner, Harold Clifton, Samuel (Pete) Cook, Gladden Troutman and Frank Barnhill. David Crawford did not receive notice of the meeting.

Although at the Monday meeting all present agreed to the austerity measure, the only firm supporters Tuesday evening were Goldschmidt, Crawford and Troutman according to a reliable source. Three of the remaining four council members changed their stand and the fourth was wavering, the source said.

50 Affidavits On City Tax Evasion Filed

There has now been filed in the Circleville Municipal Court approximately 50 affidavits charging persons with failure to pay their city income tax, according to Municipal Court Judge Sterling Lamb.

All Circleville residents whose entire income, or a part of their income has not been subject to withholding and non-residents working or receiving income in the city and not subject to withholdings must file a city income tax return.

If they have received papers from the city tax department, and their city tax has been withheld either for Circleville or another city, they must still fill out the questionnaire so the city tax department will have on record that they are paying the city tax.

If any business shows a loss they are still required to file a return.

Any persons having any questions relative to what they are required to do relative to city income tax should contact the city income tax department, Room 207 Masonic Temple.

If the city income tax department is not contacted on or before Oct. 12, warrants will be issued on the affidavits on file. The penalty carries a maximum of $500.

Henderson Report Read To Panel

FT. MEADE, Md. (AP) — After the slaughter of civilians at My Lai, Col. Oran K. Henderson recommended a propaganda campaign to counter Viet Cong claims that "American devils" killed "500 people with empty hands," his court-martial jury has been told.

Henderson's report of April 24, 1968, read into his trial record Tuesday, concluded that Viet Cong allegations of 450-500 killed at My Lai "was obviously a propaganda move to discredit the United States troops."

The trial is in recess today. Thursday and Friday will be taken up with nonjury sessions to continue a hearing into the circumstances of a missing document.

Col. William V. Wilson, who conducted the Army's original investigation into the March 16, 1968, My Lai assault, testified that Henderson sent him a copy of the April 24 report.

"At no time were civilians gathered together and killed," Wilson read from the colonel's report to Samuel Koster, then a major general and commander of the Americal Division. The report said "128 Viet Cong soldiers were killed in action. Twenty noncombatants were inadvertently killed by artillery and cross-fires between U.S. and enemy forces."

Indian Uprising Hits Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — Indian militants and police clashed inside the Bureau of Indian Affairs building today, and the approximately 30 young demonstrators attempted to make a citizens' arrest on BIA Deputy Commissioner John Crow.

Up to 10 of the Indians were arrested after a screaming, shouting, war-whooping melee at the base of the stairs leading up to Crow's office.

Ross Grant Given

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two federal grants totaling $4,583 have been awarded to Ross County to improve jail security and to buy a mechanized filing system, Gov. John Gilligan announced Tuesday.

The vote: 69 - 17 against concurrence.

A joint House-Senate Conference Committee meets today to thrash out divisions.

School aid was removed from the Senate bill on a motion — in the Finance Committee — of Sen. Oliver Ocasak, D-27 Akron, who contended that such special consideration would announce to financially-troubled schools the state was willing to bail them out. He argued the districts should learn to stand alone.

The Akron Democrat said inclusion of new language by the House violated general understanding that interim appropriation measures would do nothing more than extend spending levels set in June.

"Solutions are needed," he said, "but not in interim legislation."

Others warned the school aid would serve as a "signal to other school districts that they needn't pass emergency levies to keep their schools open."

Utilities Board Recommends Water Softening For Ballot

The Board of Public Utilities of Circleville has recommended that due to the tremendous increase in cost of adding softening to the present city water plant, the proposal be placed on the ballot at the May Primary.

At the time the present water plant was constructed in the early 1960's, the cost of adding softening was $145,000.

Today, because of a general inflationary trend the estimated cost is $752,000 just to add softening to the present plant.

However, the engineering firm of Floyd G. Browne and Associates Limited, Marion, O., recommended the capacity of the present plant be doubled because of the upward revision of the projected population growth of Circleville through the year 1985.

THE cost of increasing the size of the plant and adding softening was estimated at $1,235,000. This would just about double the present water rates in the city according to Charles Taylor, manager of the public utilities department.

Because of this increase in the water rates, the public utilities board agreed the only fair action was to give the residents of Circleville a chance to vote on the proposal.

Recommendations of the consulting engineers were:

The plant capacity be increased from 2 million gallons per day to 4 million gallons per day; the zeolite method of softening be added to the plant; the plant be automated to run continuously; the existing water rates be doubled to finance the estimated $1,235,000 project cost plus $500,000 the city is expecting to spend on main extension and a new elevated tank.

Public utilities manager said the construction of a new sewerage plant is the number one priority of his department.

The new plant is needed so the city can continue to dump their treated sewage in the Scioto River. Its construction will require an increase in sewage rates.

Extension of mains and construction of a second elevated tank are ahead of softening in priority he noted.

WHEN the city first considered softening the water, it was first thought it could be accomplished without an increase in rates.

Members of the board of public utilities are: John N. Bowers, chairman; George A. Fissell, David L. Yates.

Theft Ring Uncovered By Area Sheriffs' Probe

A theft ring, operating four years in the Pickaway, Fairfield, Hocking County area, was uncovered Wednesday according to Pickaway County Sheriff Dwight Radcliff.

The three county sheriff's departments reopened investigations into unsolved burglaries with the Sept. 16 apprehension of Charles Downs and Rickie Cordle for allegedly breaking and entering with intent to steal at the Teays Valley High School by the Pickaway County deputies.

Radcliff said the investigation indicated two Hocking County juveniles, along with Downs and Cordle and a third juvenile — a 17-year-old Pickaway County girl currently detained in the Pickaway County Jail on runaway charges — are alleged members of a theft ring accused of stealing $1,400 at the South Bloomingville School last year.

Radcliff hinted the ring, minus the Hocking County juveniles, might be implicated with thefts at Thurston School, Stoutsville School, the breaking and entering of a service station in Clearport, a laundry in Laurelville and Logan Elm High School.

Initial investigation into the Logan Elm case was first tagged as malicious destruction of property. But with the discovery of the gang, charges have been changed to breaking and entering with intent to steal.

A Lancaster man is being charged by that city with receiving and concealing stolen property — alleged to have come from the gang.

State Loan Payment Negotiated

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Atty. Gen. William J. Brown said today the state has negotiated with IHC, Inc., Akron, for advance payment on a $2 million commercial paper loan that is not yet due.

The IHC loan was one of several negotiated with the state treasurer's office by Crofters, Inc., and figured in last year's state loan scandal.

Brown, speaking for the State Board of Deposit, said IHC will make an advanced payment of $427,410 on the loan which falls due Oct. 15. He said it will be paid in full by Dec. 21, 1973.

Records in the treasurer's office show IHC made the loan Oct. 16, 1969, at 9 per cent interest: paid $90,000 interest and $500 principal on both April 15, 1970, and Oct. 15, 1970 and paid $90,000 interest on April 15, 1971.

The $427,410 payment will include $350,000 toward the principal and the remainder, $77,410, interest.

Saxbe With Majority In Draft Bill Votes

Arguments, Jury Charge On Schedule

FT. MCPHERSON, Ga. (AP) — The weeks of testimony over, only the summation and the judge's charge remain before a panel of five officers begins deliberating the fate of Capt. Ernest L. Medina.

The military judge, Col. Kenneth A. Howard, said he would charge the jury today after opposing lawyers give their final arguments.

The jurors, all Vietnam veterans, will weigh one count of premeditated murder against the 35-year-old Medina, who commanded Charlie Company during an infantry sweep through My Lai March 16, 1968, in which innocent civilians were slain by U.S. troops.

The Montrose, Colo., officer faces life imprisonment if convicted.

He is also charged with involuntary manslaughter in the deaths of 100 My Lai civilians and two counts of assault for firing two shots over the head of a Viet Cong suspect during interrogation. The involuntary manslaughter charge carries a maximum sentence of three years in prison.

Lt. William L. Calley Jr. remains the only person held responsible in the My Lai massacre. Calley, 28, one of Medina's platoon leaders, was convicted last March of murdering 22 civilians at My Lai. He was sentenced to life imprisonment, but the sentence was cut to 20 years in a review process still under way.

On the single charge facing him, Medina testified he shot a woman lying on a rice paddy because he saw her move and thought she had a hand grenade. The judge agreed Tuesday that he would instruct the jury to acquit Medina of the murder charge if the jury decides that the captain acted out of fear for his life.

The Army charges Medina was responsible for the deaths of the 100 civilians because he knew his troops were killing but chose not to intervene.

The defense contended that Medina did not know innocent civilians were being killed, and Medina testified that when he became aware of the killing, he issued a cease-fire order.

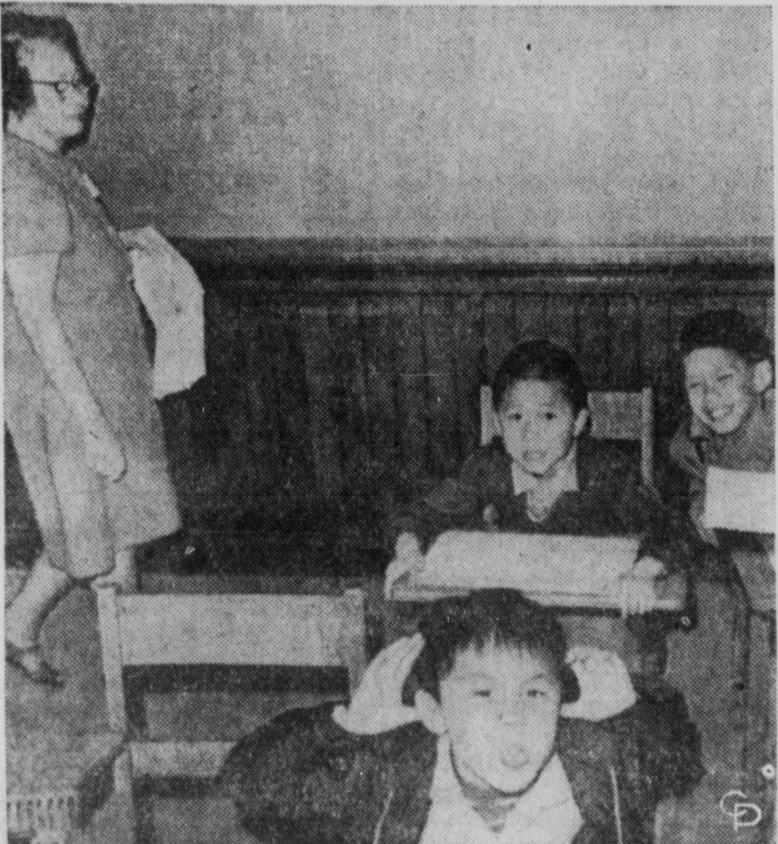

Howard met with lawyers Tuesday in the absence of the jury to hear their suggestions on the charge he will present to the panel.

Manhunt Ends; Escapees Gone

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — Law enforcement officers have called off a 14-hour search for three runaway inmates of Lima State Hospital.

The hunt ended after highway patrolmen, Allen County sheriff's deputies and hospital guardsmen concluded the trio left the Lima area.

The three pried open an outside door and scaled a 12-foot barbed wire fence. They passed between two guard posts, but were unnoticed because of heavy morning fog.

Vietnam Senate Wants Oct. 3 Vote Postponed

SAIGON (AP) — The South Vietnamese Senate today passed a resolution urging President Nguyen Van Thieu to postpone the Oct. 3 presidential election in which he is the only candidate.

Although the resolution has no binding effect, it was another indication of increasing protest against Thieu's uncontested candidacy.

The resolution was signed by 28 senators, with three others abstaining. The other 29 senators were absent, most of them either Thieu supporters or independents wishing to avoid the controversy.

Several normally pro-Thieu senators were among the supporters of the resolution. One of them, Huynh Van Cao, told the Senate he had appealed to Thieu three times without success to call off the Oct. 3 voting.

"President Nixon can support Thieu for re-election but cannot force the South Vietnamese people to do the same," Cao said.

In another move, the Senate approved by a 22-2 vote a resolution—also with no binding effect—charging that the voting in the Aug. 29 lower house election had been rigged in favor of

German Talks Are Broken Off

BERLIN (AP) — East and West German negotiators broke off today their talks aimed at carrying out the four-power agreement on Berlin.

Egon Bahr, West German state secretary and chief negotiator, said the talks were deadlocked over the issue of translating into German the text of the agreement signed by the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union.

Bahr told newsmen that the two Germans had come to an understanding on how the German translation of the Berlin pact should be stated and implied the East Germans had gone back on what was agreed upon.

Survivors include his widow, Helen, a daughter, Mrs. Patricia Ream of Dover, Ohio, and a son, Dr. Robert Burrell, Morgantown, W. Va.

Henderson Report Read To Panel

FT. MEADE, Md. (AP) — After the slaughter of civilians at My Lai, Col. Oran K. Henderson recommended a propaganda campaign to counter Viet Cong claims that "American devils" killed "500 people with empty hands," his court-martial jury has been told.

Henderson's report of April 24, 1968, read into his trial record Tuesday, concluded that Viet Cong allegations of 450-500 killed at My Lai "was obviously a propaganda move to discredit the United States troops."

The trial is in recess today. Thursday and Friday will be taken up with nonjury sessions to continue a hearing into the circumstances of a missing document.

Col. William V. Wilson, who conducted the Army's original investigation into the March 16, 1968, My Lai assault, testified that Henderson sent him a copy of the April 24 report.

"At no time were civilians gathered together and killed," Wilson read from the colonel's report to Samuel Koster, then a major general and commander of the American Division. The report said "128 Viet Cong soldiers were killed in action. Twenty noncombatants were inadvertently killed by artillery and cross-fires between U.S. and enemy forces."

House Majority Whip Robert Levitt, R-91 Canton, argued that differences between the two chambers were not "disagreements in principle ... but of detail."

"Hopefully," he said, "there will be no difficulty in working out those differences in conference committee."

Rep. Donald Pease, D-75 Oberlin, spoke for concurrence. "The Senate has acted wisely in taking Ohio out of the small loan business."

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — Law enforcement officers have called off a 14-hour search for three runaway inmates of Lima State Hospital.

The hunt ended after highway patrolmen, Allen County sheriff's deputies and hospital guardsmen concluded the trio left the Lima area.

The three pried open an outside door and scaled a 12-foot barbed wire fence. They passed between two guard posts, but were unnoticed because of heavy morning fog.

The Akron Democrat said insertion of new language by the House violated general understanding that interim appropriation measures would do nothing more than extend spending levels set in June.

"Solutions are needed," he said, "but not in interim legislation."

Others warned the school aid would serve as a "signal to other school districts that they needn't pass emergency levies to keep their schools open."

The special aid language was originally introduced by Rep. Norman Murdock, R-70 Cincinnati, chairman of the House Health Education and Welfare Committee, with the blessing of House Speaker Charles Kurfess, R-4 Perrysburg.

The U.S. Command said it still had no assessment of damage caused by 200 strikes by Air Force tactical fighter-bombers Tuesday in an area from the DMZ 35 miles into North Vietnam. The planes bombed missile and gun sites and supply depots. Some sources said poor weather hampered an assessment.

North Vietnam claimed today that it downed two of the fighter-bombers and damaged many others, but this was immediately denied by the U.S. Command.

All of our aircraft were recovered safely and there was no damage," said Maj. Robert O'Brien.

The Radio Hanoi broadcast also said the planes bombed and strafed "a large number of civilian populated areas" in Quang Binh Province, just north of the DMZ. O'Brien said the strikes were directed against military targets.

In the follow-up raids, Air Force B52 bombers and fighter-bombers from bases in Thailand and Navy warplanes from a 7th Fleet carrier in the Tonkin Gulf launched heavy strikes against storage depots and rocket positions in the south half of the DMZ and against the Ho Chi Minh trail supply network in eastern Laos.

Two 7th Fleet destroyers with five-inch guns also kept up their bombardment of North Vietnamese positions along the eastern flank of the DMZ.

Armco Allowed To Dump Wastes

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A federal judge Tuesday allowed Armco Steel Co. to continue temporarily to use two small waste outfalls into the Houston Ship Channel pending an appeal of his decision last week to stop the steel plant from dumping cyanide into the water.

U.S. District Court Judge Allen B. Hannay refused, however, to change his Friday decision to stop the dumping from two other outfalls of some 1,000 pounds a day of cyanide into the channel.

He also required Armco to post a $100,000 surety bond to cover any damages caused by any violations of the court's order while Armco is appealing the case.

Turn Down Bid For Whiskey Lane

BRECKSVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Brecksville City Council has turned down a request from 12-year-old Peter Wallace to change the name of Parkview Road to Whiskey Lane.

Wallace had requested the name change because of the street's historical value as the site of many early distilleries in the area.

Council did promise, however, that it would erect a commemorative plaque at the beginning of the street.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The federal civil rights act of 1964, however, prohibits discrimination on the basis of sex as well as race in hiring and on-the-job activities.

A Franklin County Common Pleas court in 1970 ruled that federal law applied, and it issued a permanent injunction against then Industrial Relations Director William O. Walker from enforcing the state law.

On April 7, 1971, the court of appeals reversed the lower court and dissolved the injunction. It said there was no conflict between the two laws.

Car Burner Finds Himself Hero Of Unhappy Owners

WHITTIER, Calif. (AP) — Eddie Campos was talking about the problems he's had with his car when the phone rang. The caller was a man in San Bernardino who wanted to talk about the problems he's had with his car.

Campos didn't know the caller, but listened anyway. Then he shrugged his shoulders and said: "Well I feel sorry for you, I solved all my problems with one match."

Campos' problem was his 1970 Lincoln Continental Mark III.

He got so fed up at the things he said went wrong with it he burned it to a crisp on Aug. 31 with a great deal of ceremony and five gallons of gasoline. On the front lawn of a nearby Ford assembly plant.

Since then, Campos, married and the father of three, has become sort of a folk hero to some car-owners. His car trouble started about seven miles after he bought the auto in October 1969: His wife, Carletta, says the entire ignition assembly fell out when she tried to start the car.

From then on, says Campos, it was back and forth to the dealer with power windows that wouldn't go up or down, wouldn't go down, an air conditioner that wouldn't condition, a battery that wouldn't electrify, and more.

"It seemed like every time we took it in, something would go wrong with it two weeks later," said Mrs. Campos.

Campos, described by a deputy sheriff after the Great Car Burn as "perfectly sober, perfectly rational and completely disgusted," denies he's on a one-man vendetta against Ford. "I don't think it's that," he says. "It's more of a service to the consumers to help them stand up and demand their rights. As long as they remain silent I'll remain active."

A local spokesman for Ford would only say that a check with the dealer from whom Campos bought the car showed only one complaint had been received from Campos and that it had been handled satisfactorily.

Campos, meanwhile, put the charred black and rust-brown hulk of his $10,300 Lincoln—he's still making payments on it and has $1,812.43 to go—on display on the front lawn of his plastering business here.

A five-foot lemon tree sprouts from a hole he chipped in the car's roof.

Campos says he's at least saved another car maker, Chrysler, from an even gaudier display of consumer wrath.

"This lady called me up and said she'd been having trouble with a Barracuda she bought," he recalled. "She wanted to drive the car back to the dealer's showroom, set it on fire and burn the whole place down."

"Thank God I managed to talk her out of that."

Living Costs Go Higher In August Despite Freeze

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government said today in its first consumer price report since President Nixon ordered the wage-price freeze that both living costs and wages rose in August.

Living costs increased three-tenths of one per cent, largely because of a sharp boost in gasoline prices, but the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics said the report did not reflect the price freeze because many of the figures were compiled before it was announced Aug. 15.

Wages of some 45 million rank-and-file workers rose two cents hourly and $1.43 weekly to $129 per week. Purchasing power after deduction for price increases was up seven-tenths of one per cent for the month and 1.1 per cent from a year earlier and was only five-tenths of one per cent under the 1968 all-time high, the report said.

The rise in living costs, slightly larger than in July, pushed the government's consumer price index up to 122.2 per cent of its 1967 base of 100. The figure means that it cost $12.22 last month for every $10 worth of typical family purchases four years ago.

On a seasonally adjusted basis, the August rise was four-tenths of one per cent, double the size of the July increase.

Women's Job Rules Eyed By High Court

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court agreed today to hear the controversial conflict between state and federal laws governing women working in plants.

The issue has touched off legislative debates and left the Department of Industrial Relations in the dark on enforcement.

State law prohibits women factory workers from working more than 48 hours a week and from regularly lifting objects weighing more than 25 pounds. It also has other provisions aimed at protecting women workers.

The federal civil rights act of 1964, however, prohibits discrimination on the basis of sex as well as race in hiring and on-the-job activities.

A Franklin County Common Pleas court in 1970 ruled that federal law applied, and it issued a permanent injunction against then Industrial Relations Director William O. Walker from enforcing the state law.

On April 7, 1971, the court of appeals reversed the lower court and dissolved the injunction. It said there was no conflict between the two laws.

Jones Metal Products Co. of West Lafayette, which brought the original action, then appealed to the Supreme Court. It said six sections of Ohio law are in conflict with the federal statute.

but still well below the increases in May and June, the bureau said.

Grocery prices were unchanged in August, the first time since January there had been no increase.

In other major price categories, housing costs rose five-tenths of one per cent, transportation was up five-tenths, including a 3.7 per cent hike for gasoline, medical care increased five-tenths, and recreation rose one-tenth of one per cent.

27 School Districts Ask Audits

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A total of 27 Ohio school districts now have made formal requests for state audits because of financial difficulties, State Supt. of Public Instruction Martin W. Essex said today.

State law makes mandatory an audit before any school can close its doors because of financial problems.

After analysis of the state auditor's reports on four districts, Essex said each of the districts will exhaust funds at various dates this fall.

They are Wilmington City Schools, which will exhaust its funds on Dec. 11; Clyde Exempted Village Schools on Nov. 6; Sidney City Schools on Dec. 1, and Findlay City schools on Oct. 31.

The state auditor had originally indicated Findlay would exhaust its funds by Nov. 13, but a review of the cash position of that district by the auditor has resulted in changing the date to Oct. 31.

Essex said additional requests for audits have been received or are en route to Columbus from Mansfield City Schools, Urbana City Schools, Indian Valley Local Schools in Tuscarawas County, Indian Creek Local Schools in Jefferson County, and the Newton Falls Exempted Village Schools.

The five brought to 27 the number of districts requesting audits. The total enrollment is 164,000 students.

Essex was analyzing the situation with each of the districts in which the audits have been completed to "determine when the schools could reopen and hopefully to establish new school calendars."

SEC Demands Key Sale Papers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) has ordered the Cincinnati Gas and Electric Co. to produce key documents in the proposed sale of the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. to the American Electric Power Co. (AEP).

The sale has been before the SEC for approval for the past four years. Both the Cincinnati utility and the Dayton Power and Light Co. oppose the move.

The Cincinnati firm has been fighting for several months to keep the documents secret, claiming the reports would cause "irreparable injury."

City Council . .

Goldschmidt said today that as an alternative to the austerity program, the council members would have to investigate means of increasing revenue.

He said he planned to confer with the board of elections to see if it would be possible to have a one half per cent increase in the city income tax placed on the ballot for the fall election.

The service and utilities departments were not affected by the program because their funds come from sources other than the general fund.

The city's financial plight stems back to the first of the year when a budget of $432,000 was approved though anticipated revenue certified by County Auditor Marvin Rhoades was only $405,000.

AT that time solons anticipated an increased revenue from the city income tax. However, due to a general slowing of the economy, the increase did not materialize.

In March the city fathers changed the distribution of the city income tax from 70 per cent for capital improvements and 30 per cent for the general fund to a 50-50 split, hoping that would solve the problem. But it didn't.

Over 70 per cent of the general fund goes for salaries and over half of that 70 per cent is earmarked for the police department wages.

Appropriations for the police salaries increased from $98,000 in 1970 to $126,000 in 1971. A referendum approved by the voters of Circleville authorizing a 10-hour work week for police was blamed for the increase.

Police initiated the referendum and council members at that time indicated they would not oppose it if an operating levy were attached to the measure to pay the increased costs. However, the levy was not included and council members said they were not aware it was not included until it was too late to add it. No action was taken later to increase taxes for the purpose of paying for the additional expense.

Also, during the past two years council has authorized wage increases for city personnel after the budget had been passed, adding to the plight of the city.

Councilman Goldschmidt said today the city will undoubtedly be in violation of a state statute which prohibits deficit spending by municipalities but there seems to be no solution at the present.

COUNCIL BRIEFS

The passage of the ordinance authorizing the planning for curbs and gutters along Atwater Ave., between Wilson Ave. and Morris Road is the first step in getting the long delayed resurfacing of Atwater started. Councilman David Crawford said last night that all residents except one indicated a willingness to sign right of way easements agreements as soon as they found out how much the improvement would cost them. One property owner will not sign an agreement and the city will have to condemn the property through the courts.

Atwood Jones said the firm of Dumond-Sifford and Associates was drawing plans for curbs and gutters on N. Scioto St. Jones indicated improvement of N. Scioto St. may require relocating a sanitary sewer.

Councilman Frank Barnhill reported that with school three weeks old, crosswalks at the various schools had not been repainted. He expressed the opinion that this presented a safety hazard for the children at the schools.

A decimal point in the wrong place created an overpayment of about $1,400 by Super Duper for the city income tax, Councilman Goldschmidt said.

City's financial report . . . On July 31, 1971, the city was $39,142.84 in the red. Receipts in August were $98,784.60 and expenditures were $33,418.73, leaving a balance of $26,223.03 in the general fund. Auditor Marvene Turner said the two payrolls for September were over $27,000 and that she had a drawerful of unpaid bills, which means the city is right back in the red again.

Circleville Chief of Police announced that Patrolman Patrick Drury had resigned from the force to enter the ministry. He reported that Jim Francis had attended a narcotics school in Toledo. He also noted that a demonstration of the use of VASCAR was held. The city is considering replacing the radar system with VASCAR.

Smoking Causes Blaze

City firemen were called out at 7:50 Tuesday night to a house at 206 W. High St., occupied by Betty Haddox. The fire was in some old rags around the house which had been ignited by children smoking. There was no damage to the building resulting.

Discount Reports Mao Ill; Lower Level Fight Possible

By LEWIS M. GULICK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — China watchers here doubt that Chairman Mao is on his deathbed or even seriously ill, but they suspect Peking may have run into a lower-level political problem.

Mao Tse-tung, 77, was described as vigorously healthy when last viewed by outsiders at his Aug. 7 meeting with Burma's Premier Ne Win. Nothing to contradict this has been reported here since.

However some French news stories, in part embroidering on reports from French correspondents in Peking, speculated Tuesday that some puzzling events in China indicate the red leader may be dead or gravely ill.

One apparent development is that for the first time since the Communists took power 22 years ago, they may not stage

Stock Prices Drift Lower

NEW YORK (AP) — It was more of the same on the stock market today, where prices drifted lower in light trading.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was off 2.41 at 900.99. Declines on the New York Stock Exchange led advances by a 3 to 2 margin.

Some analysts said the market would continue to drift until the specific details are disclosed about the second phase of the Nixon administration's economic anti-inflationary program. Another uncertainty overhauling the market is the troubled international monetary situation, they said.

Indicative of the lack of investor interest, brokers said, is the fact that daily Big Board turnover fell below 12 million shares in each of the past eight sessions. Volume was only 10.64 million shares Tuesday, when the Dow industrial average finished behind 1.75.

their traditional Oct. 1 national day parade at Tien An Men square.

The regime's leaders normally appear in public to review the parade. So cancellation of the big event, according to some speculation, means a leadership change may be under way.

The guess here is that neither Mao nor Chou En-lai, solidly emplaced as Premier and also in seeming good health, are about to lose their pre-eminence.

But further down the line, China specialists say, there may be an illness or other successorship problem which is still unsettled, and which has forced Peking to put off a public showing of its leadership lineup.

One unexplained event fitted into this thesis is China's halt to air flights. Civilian planes were reported grounded for three days starting Sept. 12. Military craft are said to be still restricted.

Barring flights is one way of preventing one's political opponents from moving about the country fast to pick up support in a leadership struggle. The central Peking government has done this before.

Another reported item is the circulation inside China of some directives for war preparations. Since these have not been accompanied by military movements, Western watchers figure the directives are designed mainly for homefront political purposes.

Car Burner Finds Himself Hero Of Unhappy Owners

WHITTIER, Calif. (AP) — Eddie Campos was talking about the problems he's had with his car when the phone rang. The caller was a man in San Bernardino who wanted to talk about the problems he's had with his car.

Campos didn't know the caller, but listened anyway. Then he shrugged his shoulders and said: "Well I feel sorry for you. I solved all my problems with one match."

Campos' problem was his 1970 Lincoln Continental Mark III.

He got so fed up at the things he said went wrong with it he burned it to a crisp on Aug. 31 with a great deal of ceremony and five gallons of gasoline. On the front lawn of a nearby Ford assembly plant.

Since then, Campos, married and the father of three, has become sort of a folk hero to some car-owners. His car trouble started about seven miles after he bought the auto in October 1969: His wife, Carletta, says the entire ignition assembly fell out when she tried to start the car.

From then on, says Campos, it was back and forth to the dealer with power windows that wouldn't go up or, if up, wouldn't go down, an air conditioner that wouldn't condition, a battery that wouldn't electrify, and more.

"It seemed like every time we took it in, something would go wrong with it two weeks later," said Mrs. Campos.

Campos, described by a deputy sheriff after the Great Car Burn as "perfectly sober, perfectly rational and completely disgusted," denies he's on a one-man vendetta against Ford. "I don't think it's that," he says. "It's more of a service to the consumers to help them stand up and demand their rights. As long as they remain silent I'll remain active."

A local spokesman for Ford would only say that a check with the dealer from whom Campos bought the car showed only one complaint had been received from Campos and that it had been handled satisfactorily.

Campos, meanwhile, put the charred black and rust-brown hulk of his $10,300 Lincoln—he's still making payments on it and has $1,812.43 to go—on display on the front lawn of his plastering business here.

A five-foot lemon tree sprouts from a hole he chopped in the car's roof.

Campos says he's at least saved another car maker, Chrysler, from an even gaudier display of consumer wrath.

"This lady called me up and said she'd been having trouble with a Barracuda she bought," he recalled. "She wanted to drive the car back to the dealer's showroom, set it on fire and burn the whole place down."

"Thank God I managed to talk her out of that."

Living Costs Go Higher In August Despite Freeze

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government said today in its first consumer price report since President Nixon ordered the wage-price freeze that both living costs and wages rose in August.

Living costs increased three-tenths of one per cent, largely because of a sharp boost in gasoline prices, but the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics said the report did not reflect the price freeze because many of the figures were compiled before it was announced Aug. 15.

Wages of some 45 million rank-and-file workers rose two cents hourly and $1.43 weekly to $129 per week. Purchasing power after deduction for price increases was up seven-tenths of one per cent for the month and 1.1 per cent from a year earlier and was only five-tenths of one per cent under the 1968 all-time high, the report said.

The rise in living costs, slightly larger than in July, pushed the government's consumer price index up to 122.2 per cent of its 1967 base of 100. The figure means that it cost $12.22 last month for every $10 worth of typical family purchases four years ago.

On a seasonally adjusted basis, the August rise was four-tenths of one per cent, double the size of the July increase, but still well below the increases in May and June, the bureau said.

Grocery prices were unchanged in August, the first time since January there had been no increase.

In other major price categories, housing costs rose five-tenths of one per cent, transportation was up five-tenths, including a 3.7 per cent hike for gasoline, medical care increased five-tenths, and recreation rose one-tenth of one per cent.

27 School Districts Ask Audits

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A total of 27 Ohio school districts now have made formal requests for state audits because of financial difficulties, State Supt. of Public Instruction Martin W. Essex said today.

State law makes mandatory an audit before any school can close its doors because of financial problems.

After analysis of the state auditor's reports on four districts, Essex said each of the districts will exhaust funds at various dates this fall.

They are Wilmington City Schools, which will exhaust its funds on Dec. 11; Clyde Exempted Village Schools on Nov. 6; Sidney City Schools on Dec. 1, and Findlay City schools on Oct. 31.

The state auditor had originally indicated Findlay would exhaust its funds by Nov. 13, but a review of the cash position of that district by the auditor has resulted in changing the date to Oct. 31.

Essex said additional requests for audits have been received or are en route to Columbus from Mansfield City Schools, Urbana City Schools, Indian Valley Local Schools in Tuscarawas County, Indian Creek Local Schools in Jefferson County, and the Newton Falls Exempted Village Schools.

The five brought to 27 the number of districts requesting audits. The total enrollment is 164,000 students.

Essex was analyzing the situation with each of the districts in which the audits have been completed to "determine when the schools could reopen and hopefully to establish new school calendars."

SEC Demands Key Sale Papers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) has ordered the Cincinnati Gas and Electric Co. to produce key documents in the proposed sale of the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. to the American Electric Power Co. (AEP).

The sale has been before the SEC for approval for the past four years. Both the Cincinnati utility and the Dayton Power and Light Co. oppose the move.

The Cincinnati firm has been fighting for several months to keep the documents secret, claiming the report would cause "irreparable injury."

City Council . .

Goldschmidt said today that as an alternative to the austerity program, the council members would have to investigate means of increasing revenue.

He said he planned to confer with the board of elections to see if it would be possible to have a one half per cent increase in the city income tax placed on the ballot for the fall election.

The service and utilities departments were not affected by the program because their funds come from sources other than the general fund.

The city's financial plight stems back to the first of the year when a budget of $432,000 was approved though anticipated revenue certified by County Auditor Marvin Rhodes was only $405,000.

AT that time solons anticipated an increased revenue from the city income tax. However, due to a general slowing of the economy, the increase did not materialize.

In March the city fathers changed the distribution of the city income tax from 70 per cent for capital improvements and 30 per cent for the general fund to a 50-50 split, hoping that would solve the problem. But it didn't.

Over 70 per cent of the general fund goes for salaries and over half of that 70 per cent is earmarked for the police department wages.

Appropriations for the police salaries increased from $98,000 in 1970 to $126,000 in 1971. A referendum approved by the voters of Circleville authorizing a 10-hour work week for police was blamed for the increase.

Police initiated the referendum and council members at that time indicated they would not oppose it if an operating levy were attached to the measure to pay the increased costs. However, the levy was not included and council members said they were not aware it was not included until it was too late to add it.

No action was taken later to increase taxes for the purpose of paying for the additional expense.

Also, during the past two years council has authorized wage increases for city personnel after the budget had been passed, adding to the plight of the city.

Councilman Goldschmidt said today the city will undoubtedly be in violation of a state statute which prohibits deficit spending by municipalities but there seems to be no solution at the present.

COUNCIL BRIEFS

The passage of the ordinance authorizing the planning for curbs and gutters along Atwater Ave., between Wilson Ave. and Morris Road is the first step in getting the long delayed resurfacing of Atwater started. Councilman David Crawford said last night that all residents except one indicated a willingness to sign right of way easements agreements as soon as they found out how much the improvement would cost them. One property owner will not sign an agreement and the city will have to condemn the property through the courts.

Atwood Jones said the firm of Dumond-Sifford and Associates was drawing plans for curbs and gutters on N. Scioto St. Jones indicated improvement of N. Scioto St. may require relocating a sanitary sewer.

Councilman Frank Barnhill reported that with school three weeks old, crosswalks at the various schools had not been repainted. He expressed the opinion that this presented a safety hazard for the children at the schools.

A decimal point in the wrong place created an overpayment of about $1,400 by Super Duper for the city income tax, Councilman Goldschmidt said.

City's financial report . . . On July 31, 1971, the city was $39,142.84 in the red. Receipts in August were $98,784.60 and expenditures were $33,418.73, leaving a balance of $26,223.03 in the general fund. Auditor Marvene Turner said the two payrolls for September were over $27,000 and that she had a drawful of unpaid bills, which means the city is right back in the red again.

Circleville Chief of Police announced that Patrolman Patrick Drury had resigned from the force to enter the ministry. He reported that Jim Francis had attended a narcotics school in Toledo. He also noted that a demonstration of the use of VASCAR was held. The city is considering replacing the radar system with VASCAR.

Smoking Causes Blaze
City firemen were called out at 7:30 Tuesday night to a house at 206 W. High St., occupied by Betty Haddock. The fire was in some old rags around the house which had been ignited by children smoking. There was no damage to the building resulting.

Discount Reports Mao Ill; Lower Level Fight Possible

By LEWIS M. GULICK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — China watchers here doubt that Chairman Mao is on his deathbed or even seriously ill, but they suspect Peking may have run into a lower-level political problem.

Mao Tse-tung, 77, was described as vigorously healthy when last viewed by outsiders at his Aug. 7 meeting with Burma's Premier Ne Win. Nothing to contradict this has been reported here since.

However some French news stories, in part embroidering on reports from French correspondents in Peking, speculated Tuesday that some puzzling events in China indicate the red leader may be dead or gravely ill.

One apparent development is that for the first time since the Communists took power 22 years ago, they may not stage their traditional Oct. 1 national day parade at Tien An Men square.

The regime's leaders normally appear in public to review the parade. So cancellation of the big event, according to some speculation, means a leadership change may be under way.

The guess here is that neither Mao nor Chou En-lai, solidly emplaced as Premier and also in seeming good health, are about to lose their pre-eminence.

But further down the line, China specialists say, there may be an illness or other successorship problem which is still unsettled, and which has forced Peking to put off a public showing of its leadership lineup.

One unexplained event fitted into this thesis is China's halt to air flights. Civilian planes were reported grounded for three days starting Sept. 12. Military craft are said to be still restricted.

Barring flights is one way of preventing one's political opponents from moving about the country fast to pick up support in a leadership struggle. The central Peking government has done this before.

Another reported item is the circulation inside China of some directives for war preparations. Since these have not been accompanied by military movements, Western watchers figure the directives are designed mainly for homefront political purposes.

LEHS Students Attend Confab

Logan Elm High School, was among more than 450 schools in Ohio participating in the sixth Youth and Science Conference held at Merston Auditorium on the Ohio State University campus, Sept. 18.

Delegates attending were Steve DeBruin, Vanessa Mills and Mike Williams.

Host for the group was Cromman's Hatchery, a member of the Ohio Agricultural Council from Pickaway County.

The more than 2,000 youths focused attention on new developments; future problems and alternative solutions relative to environmental quality; discussed plans for the 21st century; and learned of science career opportunities.

Sponsors of the conference were the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, The Ohio State University, and the Ohio Agricultural Council.

The Chinese puzzle has always intrigued Washington. This time it is getting special attention because of the impact a political upheaval would have on President Nixon's planned trip to Peking.

Cars Kills Horse In SR 56 Wreck

A registered quarter horse owned by Lucy Schumm, Union St., was killed Wednesday when struck by a car.

The horse, stabled at Kellstadt Farms, walked into the path of a car driven by Willis C. Shaeffer, South Bloomingville, 6:20 a.m. Wednesday on State Route 56, 3 miles southeast of the Huber-Hitler Road.

According to Sheriff's Deputy Phil Brown's report, Shaeffer was traveling north on SR 56, struck the horse and careened into a ditch. The horse walked back to his barn and died.

Shaeffer was referred to a doctor after he suffered a laceration of his left hand.

Lawrence Powers, Columbus, was cited by Deputy Robert Hoover for driving left of center when he lost control of his car on State Route 104 and crashed into a ditch, destroying two wooden guard rails.

He was not injured.

Upsetting The Calendar

A debate over a new world calendar may not be one of the more pressing matters to come before the United Nations, but there are at least two versions of a modern calendar before that body should the delegates choose to pursue the subject.

The calendar we have suffices for most people, but it does have its inconsistencies. There is, for instance, not even a nursery rhyme to tell us what day of the week a numerical date will fall.

Nor is there any logical explanation for the uneven number of days in the months.

Simplicity and consistency are the two advantages stressed by new calendar designers. Even when their diverse offerings prove how inconsistent consistency can be.

Where All World's A Stage

By JOHN CHABERLAIN

LONDON — London, with its crowds of picturesque Regent Street to Trafalgar Square in various stages of dress and undress, is theatre. It is also the theatre, as one quickly realizes when one pushes past the hairy d'Artagnans and their miniskirted lassies in the streets to get inside a Piccadilly playhouse to witness a magnificent performance of a magnificent play, "Vivat! Vivat Regina!"

This show, written by the accomplished Robert Bolt who did "A Man for All Seasons," is, of course, about the two queens, Elizabeth I of England and Mary of Scotland. It will be a sellout when it hits Broadway in America. Its theme is greatness of character in a time when England had a present, not a past.

The kids in the streets outside, however, couldn't care less—or so one is tempted to think as one watches them in their vast unconcern for anything other than a bubbling good time. They prefer their own form of theatre to anything that is composed. The moralists who denounce the young have their own case against them (Britain's kids are currently on what the elders would call an anti-pornography kick), and if I were not the father and stepfather of six boys and girls who have somehow turned out all right I would be more worried than I am about the exportability of the amateur strip show that goes on daily in the London streets.

What does worry me is that the new generation in London as elsewhere is so flagrantly anti-history. What Queen Elizabeth did when she ordered Sir Francis Drake to get ready to take on the mighty Spanish Armada has great meaning inside the Piccadilly Theatre and apparently no meaning at all for the young who move up and down totting their bedrolls through the Piccadilly area outside.

Another play, "The Philanthropist," by Christopher Hampton, which has been running at the Mayfair Theatre for a year, would seem to be more in the mood of modern London. With its anti-hero, a poor worm of a philologist who tries to please everybody and so pleases nobody, it could have a meaning in the land of the Welfare State. The only trouble with trying to read significance into "The Philanthropist" is that the self-centered university characters surrounding the anti-hero are equally distasteful. The young in the London streets, with their crude vitality, are at least a cut better than the college don intellectuals and their molls who people Mr. Hampton's "bourgeois comedy."

Whether the young will ever discover the sense of purpose that once dominated British history is a difficult question to answer. Possibly the past can have little meaning to those who live inside an empire that has all but succeeded in shrinking itself back to a complete "little England" status. Joining with continental Europe in a purely economic union won't satisfy the young, who don't worry about economic goods anyway. There is a prevalent feeling that that Western Europeans can somehow get along with the Soviet Union no matter what Brezhnev and Kossygin are now doing to flank the continent from the Mediterranean, as the Saracens and the Ottoman Turks once did. Such a feeling is not calculated to inspire anybody in England with the sense that joining a larger union will substitute a new regional and cultural pride for an old.

One heartening thing stirs, however. John Kemp, the social services correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, cites some evidence that the London drug scene is declining. The Reverend Kenneth Leech, whose parish of St. Anne's in Soho has been in the center of the worst London drug area, reports that the drug takers of yesterday are turning either to booze or to religion. Even booze is preferable to LSD or heroin.

If the Reverend Mr. Leech is right, it is good news for America. For London fashions made the mood movement in the first place, and what is done in England today will be done in America tomorrow. If Soho is off drugs, can the East Village in New York be far behind?

NEW YORK (AP) — What has been happening to your status lately? Is your prestige rising or falling?

This is important to know in a civilization where everything seems to depend on your keeping your best foot forward at all times.

Well, perhaps it's time we made one of our seasonal checkups. There are certain signs which unmistakably indicate whether you are on the boulevard to mogulism or on the downward path to mongrelism.

For example, you don't have a thing to worry about if—

The liquor served you at the cocktail parties you attend is of better quality than it was 10 years ago.

You can now go in and buy your suits at stores whose windows you could only stare at before.

2 Perry County Youths Rescued

NEW LEXINGTON, Ohio (AP)—Two Perry County boys escaped serious injury Monday when they wandered into the entrance of a coal mine in Shawnee and had to be rescued after a cave-in.

Authorities said the cave-in was in a passageway of the mine. The boys, Kenny Gotke, 17, and Allen Foley, 14, did not suffocate because an opening of about 12 inches was left after the passageway closed behind them.

A third youth, Bill Knight, 20, who was outside the mine at the time, reported the cave-in.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

IN RUTH GORDON'S autobiography, "Myself Among Others," she tells that early in her career, Thornton Wilder gave her a bit of invaluable advice. "You'll have to decide right off whether you're going to be a do-er or an oh-er." Miss Gordon decided then and there to be a do-er. Soon after she told her father she had been chosen to lead her class parade in school. "Good," he approved. "Are you the brightest?" "No," she admitted. "I'm the shortest."

"God!" groaned the father. "Chosen for an affliction!"

A beautiful TV personality was once ardently wooed by a big-shot politico. There were two catches to this situation: one, her feelings for the gentleman were platonic at best, and two, he tipped the scales at about 250 pounds net. In fact, he made Jackie Gleason look like Woody Allen by comparison.

One evening our hero breathed hotly in her ear, "I do not believe you realize the depth of my emotion for you. I now am formally proposing that we be married immediately." Stunned by this avowal, but anxious not to offend her panting pursuer, she countered lightly, "Take off 50 pounds, and I'll promise to take you over seriously." The politico considered this proposition silently for a moment, then blurted, "What will you do for FIVE pounds?"

Cavewoman to her worried mate in a prehistoric shelter: "How can you possibly have an ulcer? We're not civilized yet!"

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Is there any difference between a hard corn and a soft corn of the feet as far as the treatment is concerned?

Mrs. G. E., N.Y.
Dear Mrs. E.: Corns, soft or hard, are really a form of callous.

A callous is a thickening of the skin, nature's compensation for constant irritation or pressure against the skin.

The skin that lies over any bony prominence is especially vulnerable to callous formation. The most common variety is the hard corn caused by the friction of shoes.

Sometimes, corns are seen in other parts of the body, even on the buttocks.

Soft corns are located in the webbed spaces between the toes. They are probably soft because of the moisture in this area.

There is also another variation known as the "seed" corn found over the heel in elderly persons.

Treatment of corns should definitely be assigned to the podiatrist. They are highly skilled in the removing of corns with a maximum of safety.

Of course, attention must be paid to the underlying reasons for corns and callouses so that pressure points can be avoided.

Doctors find that the feet generally are given remarkably little attention. Good hygiene of the feet includes proper drying, and the application of lotion to keep the skin soft.

A trace of sugar was found in my urine just once. Repeated examination failed to show it again. Nevertheless, I still worry about it.

Mrs. N. B., Wyo.
Dear Mrs. B.: The examination of a single specimen of urine does not carry finality with it.

Any number of factors may have introduced some error in the test. The fact that your urine has failed to show evidence of sugar must suggest that error played a role in the initial findings.

Should blood cultures always be part of a general physical examination?

Mr. H. B. E., Vt.
Dear Mr. E.: Blood cultures are not done routinely. These complex studies are performed only when the illness suggests

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — Marketing and advertising people claim to be perceptive, aware, active. They are also aggressive, forever devising ways to arouse dormant impulses to buy.

If a market doesn't exist in definable form they have been known to create it.

And still, in the view of a woman who qualifies as an authority because of her own research, they have overlooked to a great extent a population category that may be made up of the real big spenders.

Jean Kinney, author of "Living With Zest in a Empty Nest," one of the latest "how to" big sellers, claims that product and service suppliers should concentrate more on people under 65, singles or couples, living alone.

"The most affluent years of a couple's life," she maintains, "is from the day the last child leaves until retirement."

During this time the man is often at the peak of his earnings and the woman, sometimes because of a lack of other things to do, has returned to her profession or skill. The children are gone, the nest is empty.

This affluent period comes, ironically, when expenses are low, although this is no surprise to parents who are accustomed to the vagaries of a life that dumped all the expenses on them when they least could afford them.

The big food bills and tuition expenses are behind them, and the house may be paid for.

The combination of bigger income and fewer expenses means that empty nesters are heavy spenders for travel, luggage, furnishings, clothes, theater tickets, vacation homes, condominiums, stock and bonds and eating out.

Life styles change to reflect the new affluence, says Mrs. Kinney, mother of six and grandmother of many more, a former advertising agency vice president and now, of course, an empty nester.

There are now about 40 million persons between 45 and 65, compared with only 18 million teen-agers between 15 and 20. The great majority are employed: half of the women between 45 and 54, for example, are at work.

They are "in depth" newspaper readers and avid television watchers, mediums used by producers of goods and services to show their products. And their buying power, Mrs. Kinney claims, is going to grow.

"They will have more money to spend in the next 10 years because the nest will be emptying sooner and their incomes will be higher," she says.

Why, she asks, should those who wish to move goods be so concerned with teen-agers and the parents whose children are still at home?

Clearly there is a reason: While these groups might hardly have the money to spend, or might not wish to spend it, they must do so in order to survive.

The empty nest spends, however, because he or she likes to and because assuming that retirement is properly planned, their worries are fewer, their time and freedom greater. They are awaiting the salesman's pitch.

Dear Editor:

In a recent edition the Herald stated that I missed my first Circleville High School football game in 38 years.

Even though I was not able to make it to this year's opener I did get to see the game on film. And for that my thanks goes out to coach Danny Williams and his staff for making it possible.

During the football season there is bound to come the crucial and key game for the Tigers. It is that one I ask the Circleville squad to win for me.

Respectfully yours,
Laurence (Speeder) Davis

Dear Editor:

In Friday's Columbus newspaper an Associated Press article from Amsterdam indicated that the Anne Frank Foundation is having financial problems. There is a threat of closure.

In addition to upkeep of the Anne Frank House at No. 263 Prinsengracht, the foundation also provides a staff to conduct thousands of visitors through the house and assists in operating some 40 annual seminars on such themes as oppression, intolerance, and racial prejudice.

Mr. Hans van Houte is the 48 year old director of the foundation.

It occurred to me that if many of our citizens who can afford it would send a couple of dollars to the foundation in memory of the courage of this teen-ager who recorded her life and ideals in her now world-famous diary before being betrayed and taken to Belsen in a cattle truck for extermination, we may help to perpetuate those ideas, that courage, and the certain knowledge that such mass oppression and bigotry must not happen on this earth again.

TRUMAN N. EBERLY
270 Lewis Road

P.S. It may be readily seen that the production of the "Diary of Anne Frank" presented so ably by the dramatics department and the senior class of Circleville High School in 1960 left a lasting impression on me, and doubtless many others.

Black Caucus Opens Purge Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — The congressional Black Caucus has begun a purge list of white congressmen it says are voting against the interests of blacks in their districts.

The target congressmen are those from closely-contested districts where black voters hold the balance of power.

The first two members to make the list were Nick Galifianakis, D-N.C., and Romano Maoli, D-Ky., who voted last week against a tough job equality enforcement bill backed by civil rights groups.

It lost by five votes.

"The Black Caucus considers this bill to have involved the most fundamental civil rights issues yet to be resolved," said the 13 House members who make up the Black Caucus in a statement Tuesday.

Relief Board Jury Probers Near Work's End

CINCINNATI (AP) — A special Hamilton County grand jury may wrap up its investigation into activities of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Relief Commission by Friday, Prosecutor Simon Leis Jr. says.

The jury heard testimony from five people Tuesday and then was given a two-day recess until Friday. Leis would not comment on the reason for the recess.

Leis requested about two weeks ago that the grand jury be impeached to investigate the commission which is operated under the Hamilton County Commission. On the same day Leis made the request, the presiding judge of the Hamilton County Common Pleas Court, Frank Gusweiler, removed William Toth as president of the commission.

The grand jury began its investigation Sept. 13. Leis said that it will have until Oct. 1 to return its report.

French Prisoners Slay 2 Hostages During Assault

CLAIRVAU, France (AP) — Gendarmes blasted their way into the prison hospital early today and authorities said they found two hostages held by two mutineering prisoners had been killed—their throats cut.

The prisoners had overpowered a guard and a female prison nurse and held them hostage for 20 hours. The convicts demanded their freedom.

The French penitentiary director, Jean le Corno, had gone to prison to attempt to negotiate with the convicts, Claude Buffet and Roger Bontemps. They demanded arms and ammunition. Le Corno said they could leave the prison, but without arms.

Finally, the door leading to the prison hospital, where the convicts held the hostages, was blasted open with a plastic explosive. The guard, Guy Girardot, 25, was found dead, and the nurse, Nicole Comte, 35, was dying. The two convicts were injured and were taken into custody.

Le Corno had been sent to the prison by Minister of Justice Rene Pleven. Le Corno said the convicts demanded that they be given three revolvers, a sub-machine gun and 250 shells. They also asked that they be allowed to take the hostages with them as they left the prison.

"After the two prisoners refused all of our propositions, including one to let them free but without arms, it was decided to enter the prison hospital by force," Le Corno said.

of the vote. Maoli, with a 15 per cent black district, won a first term by 211 votes—a 50.1 per cent margin.

"The black community overwhelmingly supported both," the Caucus said.

In last week's vote Galifianakis and Maoli supported a Republican-backed substitute which was adopted by a vote of 202 to 197. It is now awaiting Senate action.

The caucus called the vote, "a devastating blow for those who seek equality of opportunity in employment." It said 35 members from districts with large black constituencies voted for the substitute, but Maoli and Galifianakis were singled out at this time because they had such narrow election victories. Neither congressman was available for comment on the action.

A caucus spokesman said other names will be published after future votes. The caucus has been compiling voter registration information by districts for months in preparation for a campaign to make Congress more responsive to the needs of blacks. It has determined there are 171 districts in which blacks make up at least 10 per cent of the electorate.

Power Amplifier Pacts Awarded

CINCINNATI (AP) — A $200,000 contract for design and construction of two compact lightweight power amplifiers for the U. S. Army Electronics Command has been awarded to the Avco Electronics Division here.

Avco officials said Tuesday that development of the units is part of the Army program to improve the size and weight of radios in relation to the type and range of communication each is required to perform.

Delivery to the Army of two prototype units is scheduled by July 1973.

Short Circuit Blamed In Fatal Oxford Blaze

OXFORD, Ohio (AP) — A short circuit has been blamed for a $250,000 blaze in the business district here Aug. 9 in which one fireman was killed and several others were hurt.

Oxford Fire Chief Kent Shoemaker said Tuesday that the short circuit occurred near a meter box at the rear of a building housing the Oxford Shoe Corp.

The shoe shop, a drug store and Masonic Lodge in the building were destroyed.

A wall of the building fell on Hamilton Deputy Fire Chief Stanley Meyer, killing him and injuring the other firemen.

Y-Indian Guide Week
Governor Gilligan has proclaimed September 19-25 as Father and Son Y Indian Guide Week.

According to Chuck Jolliffe, Pickaway Plains Longhouse Chief, the eleven local tribes will be busy during their week with an orientation Pow-Wow, various tribe activities, group church attendance and the Fall Camp-Out.

Jolliffe said, boys 6 to 9 years of age and their dads can join in the activities of Y Indian Guide Week by attending the Organization Pow-Wow on September 23, 1971 at 7 p. m. at the YMCA. The evening Indian Guide Pow-Wow will introduce father and sons to Y Indian Guides and give information concerning the joining of this YMCA Father and Son Program.

Also included in the evening's activities, he said, will be craft displays, Indian Stories and refreshments.

In addition to the Pow-Wow little braves will be encouraged to wear the Y-Indian Guide Head Bands to school on Sept. 23, and on Sept. 26 meet at 8:15 a.m. at the Lutheran Parish House to attend the 8:30 a.m. service at the Lutheran Church.

According to the chief, coup feathers will be presented to little braves attending the Longhouse Organization Meeting and Church.

The activities of Y Indian Guide Week will be concluded with the Fall Camp - Out at Y Camp Alfred Wills on, Bellefontaine, Ohio Oct. 1, 2, and 3. New braves, Jolliffe said, will be formally inducted into the Pickaway Plains Longhouse at the camp-out.

Cadillac '72

Sedan de Ville, more luxurious than ever. There's every reason to believe that Sedan de Ville will continue to be the luxury car model enjoyed by more motorists than all others. It has the look of luxury—from its distinctive new grille to the new jewel-like interior metal surfaces. It has the feel of luxury—with even more comfortable seating. It has more of what adds up to lasting value. Like Cadillac's new bumper system for increased front-end protection.

Sedan de Ville—more than ever the popular choice.

One great car after another.

Eldorado, even more distinctive for '72. There's the incomparable Eldorado Coupe and the stunning new Eldorado Convertible, the only luxury convertible built in the land. They are even more elegant, even more exciting. Some things we didn't change. Such as the 8.2 litre V-8, the world's largest production passenger car engine. The precise handling of front-wheel drive and variable-ratio power steering. The Eldorados of 1972 are, more than ever, the world's most elegant personal cars.

Out of a 70-year tradition of excellence come nine great Cadillacs for 1972. In addition to the models above, there are the magnificent Fleetwood Sixty Special Brougham... the youthful new Coupe de Ville... the new Calais Sedan and Coupe... and the most aristocratic of automobiles, the new Fleetwood Seventy-Five nine-passenger Sedan. Finally, there's the Seventy-Five limousine, the only limousine built in America specifically designed as a limousine. Cadillac '72 is one great car after another. Because Cadillac does not reject the past, but builds on it. Carefully. With Fleetwood coachcraft by Fisher. With styling continuity and contemporary flair that tells you at a glance that this is Cadillac. See for yourself at your authorized Cadillac dealer.

The target congressmen are those from closely-contested districts where black voters hold the balance of power.

The first two members to make the list were Nick Galifianakis, D-N.C., and Romano Maoli, D-Ky., who voted last week against a tough job equality enforcement bill backed by civil rights groups.

It lost by five votes. "The Black Caucus considers this bill to have involved the most fundamental civil rights issues yet to be resolved," said the 13 House members who make up the Black Caucus in a statement Tuesday.

"Those members who refused to vote in support of this bill simply do not deserve voter support from the black community," they said.

Galifianakis, whose district is one-fourth black, was re-elected to a fourth term last November with a majority of 52.3 per cent of the vote. Maoli, with a 15 per cent black district, won a first term by 211 votes—a 50.1 per cent margin.

"The black community overwhelmingly supported both," the Caucus said.

In last week's vote Galifian-akis and Maoli supported a Republican-backed substitute which was adopted by a vote of 202 to 197. It is now awaiting Senate action.

The caucus called the vote, "a devastating blow for those who seek equality of opportunity in employment." It said 35 members from districts with large black constituencies voted for the substitute, but Maoli and Galifianakis were singled out at this time because they had such narrow election victories. Neither congressman was available for comment on the action.

A caucus spokesman said other names will be published after future votes. The caucus has been compiling voter registration information by districts for months in preparation for a campaign to make Congress more responsive to the needs of blacks. It has determined there are 171 districts in which blacks make up at least 10 per cent of the electorate.

French Prisoners Slay 2 Hostages During Assault

CLAIRVAU, France (AP) — Gendarmes blasted their way into the prison hospital early today and authorities said they found two hostages held by two mutineering prisoners had been killed—their throats cut.

The prisoners had overpowered a guard and a female prison nurse and held them hostage for 20 hours. The convicts demanded their freedom.

The French penitentiary director, Jean le Corno, had gone to prison to attempt to negotiate with the convicts, Claude Buffet and Roger Bontemps. They demanded arms and ammunition. Le Corno said they could leave the prison, but without arms.

Finally, the door leading to the prison hospital, where the convicts held the hostages, was blasted open with a plastic explosive. The guard, Guy Giardot, 25, was found dead, and the nurse, Nicole Comte, 35, was dying. The two convicts were injured and were taken into custody.

Le Corno had been sent to the prison by Minister of Justice Rene Pleven. Le Corno said the convicts demanded that they be given three revolvers, a sub-machine gun and 250 shells. They also asked that they be allowed to take the hostages with them as they left the prison.

"After the two prisoners refused all of our propositions, including one to let them free but without arms, it was decided to enter the prison hospital by force," Le Corno said.

The two convicts were taken to a nearby hospital for treatment. Six prisoners who were patients in the hospital were uninjured and were evacuated.

Buffet and Bontemps had overpowered Giardot and Mrs. Comte Tuesday and tied them to chairs in the prison hospital. They began negotiating with prison officials by telephone, demanding their freedom.

Power Amplifier Pacts Awarded

CINCINNATI (AP) — A $200,000 contract for design and construction of two compact lightweight power amplifiers for the U. S. Army Electronics Command has been awarded to the Avco Electronics Division here.

Avco officials said Tuesday that development of the units is part of the Army program to improve the size and weight of radios in relation to the type and range of communication each is required to perform.

Delivery to the Army of two prototype units is scheduled by July 1973.

Relief Board Jury Probers Near Work's End

CINCINNATI (AP) — A special Hamilton County grand jury may wrap up its investigation into activities of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Relief Commission by Friday, Prosecutor Simon Leis Jr. says.

The jury heard testimony from five people Tuesday and then was given a two-day recess until Friday. Leis would not comment on the reason for the recess.

Leis requested about two weeks ago that the grand jury be impaneled to investigate the commission which is operated under the Hamilton County Commission. On the same day Leis made the request, the presiding judge of the Hamilton County Common Pleas Court, Frank Gusweiler, removed William Toth as president of the commission.

The grand jury began its investigation Sept. 13. Leis said that it will have until Oct. 1 to return its report.

Short Circuit Blamed In Fatal Oxford Blaze

OXFORD, Ohio (AP) — A short circuit has been blamed for a $250,000 blaze in the business district here Aug. 9 in which one fireman was killed and several others were hurt.

Oxford Fire Chief Kent Shoemaker said Tuesday that the short circuit occurred near a meter box at the rear of a building housing the Oxford Shoe Corp.

The shoe shop, a drug store and Masonic Lodge in the building were destroyed.

Y-Indian Guide Week

Governor Gilligan has proclaimed September 19-25 as Father and Son Y Indian Guide Week.

According to Chuck Jolliffe, Pickaway Plains Longhouse Chief, the eleven local tribes will be busy during their week with an orientation Pow-Wow, various tribe activities, group church attendance and the Fall Camp-Out.

Jolliffe said, boys 6 to 9 years of age and their dads can join in the activities of Y Indian Guide Week by attending the Organization Pow-Wow on September 23, 1971 at 7 p. m. at the YMCA. The evening Indian Guide Pow-Wow will introduce father and sons to Y Indian Guides and give information concerning the joining of this YMCA Father and Son Program.

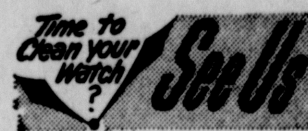

Also included in the evening's activities, he said, will be craft displays, Indian Stories and refreshments.

In addition to the Pow-Wow little braves will be encouraged to wear the Y-Indian Guide Head Bands to school on Sept. 23, and on Sept. 26 meet at 8:15 a.m. at the Lutheran Parish House to attend the 8:30 a.m. service at the Lutheran Church.

According to the chief, coup feathers will be presented to little braves attending the Longhouse Organization Meeting and Church.

The activities of Y Indian Guide Week will be concluded with the Fall Camp - Out at Y Camp - Alfred Wills on, Bellefontaine, Ohio Oct. 1, 2, and 3. New braves, Jolliffe said, will be formally inducted into the Pickaway Plains Longhouse at the camp-out.

Cadillac '72

Sedan deVille, more luxurious than ever. There's every reason to believe that Sedan deVille will continue to be the luxury car model enjoyed by more motorists than all others. It has the look of luxury—from its distinctive new grille to the new jewel-like interior metal surfaces. It has the feel of luxury—with even more comfortable seating. It has more of what adds up to lasting value. Like Cadillac's new bumper system for increased front-end protection. Sedan deVille—more than ever the popular choice.

One great car after another.

Eldorado, even more distinctive for '72. There's the incomparable Eldorado Coupe and the stunning new Eldorado Convertible, the only luxury convertible built in the land. They are even more elegant, even more exciting. Some things we didn't change. Such as the 8.2 litre V-8, the world's largest production passenger car engine. The precise handling of front-wheel drive and variable-ratio power steering. The Eldorados of 1972 are, more than ever, the world's most elegant personal cars.

Out of a 70-year tradition of excellence come nine great Cadillacs for 1972. In addition to the models above, there are the magnificent Fleetwood Sixty Special Brougham . . . the youthful new Coupe deVille . . . the new Calais Sedan and Coupe . . . and the most aristocratic of automobiles, the new Fleetwood Seventy-Five nine-passenger Sedan. Finally, there's the Seventy-Five limousine, the only limousine built in America specifically designed as a limousine. Cadillac '72 is one great car after another. Because Cadillac does not reject the past, but builds on it. Carefully. With Fleetwood coachcraft by Fisher. With styling continuity and contemporary flair that tells you at a glance that this is Cadillac. See for yourself at your authorized Cadillac dealer.

The Standard of the World still stands alone.

Couple Exchanges Vows In Pontious UM Church

MR. AND MRS. FRANKLIN URICK

The altar of Pontious United Methodist Church was adorned with arrangements of white gladiolus, carnations and mums for the wedding of Miss Nancy Bernice Pauley and Mr. Charles Franklin Urick. White satin bows marked the family pews.

The Rev. Liston Halley officiated the double ring ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Pauley, 130 E. Water St. and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Urick, Chillicothe.

Nuptial selections were played by organist, Mrs. E. Dowler, and she accompanied Rev. Halley as he sang "The Lord's Prayer" while the bride and bridegroom knelt at the altar before lighting a single candle from two small ones signifying the union.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and mother. She was attired in a white gown with an alencon lace bodice over bridal taffeta, scalloped round neckline and long lace sleeves. Panels of matching lace were over the layered floor length skirt of net. The elbow length bridal veil was caught to a face framing headpiece of alencon lace and pearls. The bride carried a cascade arrangement of white miniature carnations and daisies with English Ivy.

Mrs. Daniel Overly served as matron of honor in a multi-colored chiffon floor length dress with a scoop neckline, full chiffon sleeves and an olive satin sash forming a bow at the back. She wore a brief nylon veil matching her gown and carried a bouquet of white daisies and lilies of the valley tied with white streamers.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Bud Pauley and Mrs. Ray Pauley, sisters-in-law of the bride. They were dressed alike in green chiffon floor length gowns with olive lace forming bolero vests. Olive satin ribbon laced the bodices and their brief veils were of olive green nylon net. They carried bouquets of yellow daisies with yellow streamers.

Flower girls were Denise Lowe and Shelly Miller, nieces of the groom. They wore yellow satin dresses with full chiffon sleeves. Ring bearers were Brian Pauley and Jeff Pauley, nephews of the bride.

Mrs. Pauley wore an A-line beige dress with lace sleeves and brown accessories. Mrs. Urick chose a beige dress with lace overlay and brown accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of multicolored miniature mums with matching ribbons.

A reception in the social rooms of the church immediately followed the ceremony. The bride's table, covered with a white cloth, was centered with a three tiered wedding cake decorated with green and yellow daisies and topped with the traditional bride and groom figures and surrounded with miniature mums and daisies.

Hostesses were Miss Susan Dresbach and Miss Sue Costott. Miss Terry Weethee presided at the guest book.

For a wedding trip to Myrtle Beach the bride selected a white dress with blue trim and white accessories.

The new Mrs. Urick is a graduate of Circleville High School. Mr. Urick graduated from Chillicothe High School and is currently employed by Super Duper in Chillicothe. He is undergoing basic training in the Army Reserves at Fort Knox, Ky.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were from Waverly, Chillicothe, Mansfield, Sciotoville, Columbus and New Boston.

A rehearsal dinner was held Friday evening before the wedding hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Urick for the members of the wedding party and immediate families at Link's.

50th Wedding Anniversary Celebrated

A Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary celebration Saturday at the American Legion Post honored Mr. and Mrs. Wayne G. Mogan. Due to poor health Mr. Mogan was unable to attend but was visited at his home, 154 W. Water St., by some of his relatives.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. Tim Mogan, N. Scioto St.; Mrs. Ida Petty and Pat Hickey, Columbus and all nine of the honored couple's children along with some of the grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Children and their families are: Mr. and Mrs. Pat Mogan, Molly and Mary, Columbus; John Mogan, Florida; Mr. and Mrs. Jay (Idabelle) White, Helen, John and Donna; Margaret Walisa and Audrey, Circleville; Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Mogan and Sarah, Grove City; Mr. and Mrs. Don (Sally) Thomas, Bonnie, Donnie, Bobby, Ann and Bill, Zanesville; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mogan, Joe, Jerry, Tim and Tom, Circleville; Mr. and Mrs. Douglas (Helen) Morrison, Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. Tim Mogan and Christine, Columbus and a daughter, Mary with children, Angela, Teresa, Bobby, Michael and Ann Margaret of Circleville.

Mrs. Mogan was presented a memory book with a written message to her and Mr. Mogan from each of their children. The book is to be completed with a picture of each family.

Accompanying the family for singing were Mrs. Betty Woods, pianist and Jack Black, guitarist.

Monday evening their grandson, Paul J. White Jr. and Mrs. White and daughter, Julia visited the honorees at their home.

Children Fete Parents On Anniversary

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hardman of Route 1, Laurelville, honored their parents with a dinner at Wardell's Party Home on Friday evening in celebration of their 34th Wedding Anniversary.

FEWER OPENINGS for teachers in primary and secondary schools will force many college graduates—especially women—to enter other fields in the 1970s. Teacher openings crested in 1969 at more than 242,000, reflecting the teacher need for the increased number of school-age children born during the post World War II baby boom. In 1970, openings declined by 37,000 to 205,000 and for the rest of the decade are expected to run at a lower level of 175,000 to 180,000, with the total number of teachers remaining relatively stable at nearly 2.2 million. The shortage of openings will be aggravated by the number of graduating college students, which is expected to increase by 45 per cent during the decade.

Roman Ruins In England Unearthed By Archaeologists

By DONALD FORBES
Associated Press Writer
WELWYN, England (AP) — A team of amateur archaeologists has unearthed a Roman bath house in the path of a new superhighway — and the road builders have hit on a unique scheme to preserve it.

The ruins of what is a kind of early Turkish bath will be encased in a concrete vault with the highway passing overhead.

The preserved bath house, uncovered in a dig near this rural Hertfordshire town, 20 miles north of London, will be open to tourists and scholars while traffic on the highway rumbles above.

The Ministry for the Environment is paying the $48,000 cost of building the vault.

England is littered with the evidence of Roman colonization which began with Caesar's invasion in 55 BC and lasted for around 450 years. But many of the ruins are threatened by the encroachment of modern developments like roads and new towns.

Archaeologists are hailing the safeguarding of the Welwyn ruins as a preservation breakthrough. The site is also something of a showpiece of what amateur archaeologists can accomplish.

The 1,000 square foot bath house was found by the Lockleys Archeological Society, a group of local enthusiasts who have spent 10 years excavating the site, some of it lying under the playing grounds of a school. It comprises a changing room, a cold room, a warm room and a hot room, much on the same lines as a present-day Turkish bath. The heat came from a furnace which channeled warm air through ducts.

Nearby are the foundations of two demolished villas and another building.

The amateur archaeologists — headed by school teacher Tony Rook and including a bus driver, a public relations consultant and a taxman — are still intrigued by the origins of this complex of buildings.

They could have been the property of a wealthy Roman or perhaps a Romanized Briton. But Rook believes it is possible the buildings and bath house formed part of an administrative bloc.

He said: "It's tempting to believe that this was a center from where the Romans administered the region."

Rook started the Lockleys Archeological Society when he moved into the area 11 years ago. Excavations at the bath house site began after a tile was found sticking through the soil. Now, the Society has around 150 members.

Fruit Fondue Salad Is Do-It-Yourself Project

By ALICE DENHOFF

Bartletts, beautiful Bartletts are in the market with their message of fine fare and good nutrition. Eat 'em as is, in salads and in a variety of delightful dishes. California reports a splendid crop, so let's take advantage of the bountiful harvest. If the Bartlett pears aren't ripe, a couple days in a brown paper bag should complete the ripening process.

First recipe today is for a flavorful:

FRUIT FONDUE SALAD

1/2 cup orange sherbet
2-3 cup whipped salad dressing
1 teaspoon chopped fresh mint
1/2 cup lime sherbet
1 teaspoon grated lemon peel
Assorted greens
2 fresh California Bartlett pears
Apple slices
Lemon juice
Pineapple chunks
Orange sections

Mix together orange sherbet, 1-3 cup of the salad dressing and all the mint in a bowl. In another bowl, mix together lime sherbet, remaining salad dressing and the lemon peel. Tear greens in bite-size pieces in salad bowl.

Halve, core and slice pears crosswise into crescents. Brush pear crescents and apple slices with lemon juice. Arrange with other fruits on platter. Set a bowl of dressing on each end of platter. Let each person help himself to greens and dip fruits into dressing to make his own salad. Serves 6 to 8.

Salmon and Bartletts combine in this:

SALMON CRUNCH SALAD ON BARTLETTS

1 can (1 pound) red salmon
1 cup thinly sliced celery
3/4 cup dairy sour cream
1/4 cup lemon juice
1 teaspoon marjoram
1/2 teaspoon seasoned salt
1/4 cup minced onion
2 fresh California Bartlett pears
Salad greens
2 cups crushed potato chips

Drain and flake salmon, discarding skin and bones. Mix salmon with celery, sour cream, 2 tablespoons of the lemon juice, marjoram, salt and onion. Chill. Quarter and core pears; coat with lemon juice and arrange 2 quarters, cut sides up, on greens on each of 4 salad plates. Gently mix potato chips into salmon mixture and spoon between pears on plate. Should be served promptly.

PORK TENDERLOIN WITH PEARS

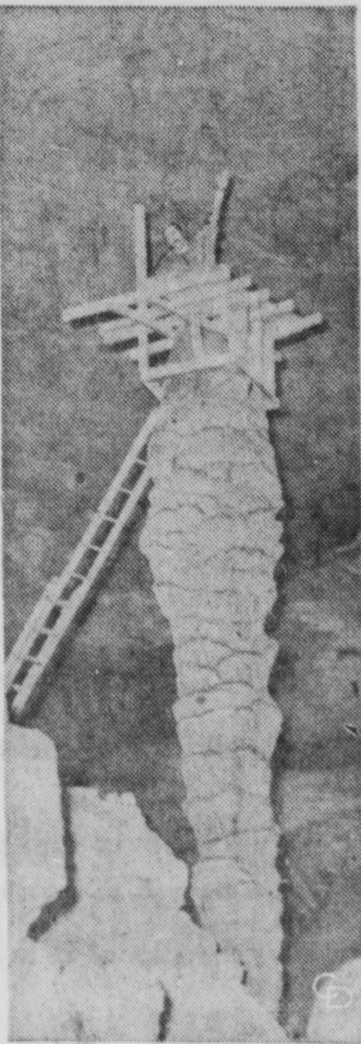

1 pound pork tenderloin, sliced
2 tablespoons margarine
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon black pepper
1 tablespoon coarsely grated orange rind
1/4 cup orange juice
1 tablespoon cornstarch
3/4 cup water
3 tablespoons red wine
1 or 2 fresh California Bartlett pears

Fry slices of meat in margarine; sprinkle with salt and pepper.

For sauce, cover orange rind with a little water; bring to a boil. Boil 1 minute, then drain.

Mix orange juice and cornstarch; mix in 3/4 cup water, orange rind and wine. Bring to boil and simmer 10 minutes. Pour over meat.

Pare, core and halve pears; place flat side down and thinly slice. With wide spatula, lift to platter and serve with pork and sauce. Serves 4 with a new treat.

Producer Co-Op Plans Ohio Buy

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Officials of the newly formed Great Western Producers Cooperative have announced intentions to acquire and operate the Great Western Sugar Co., the nation's largest beet sugar producer.

Robert Sakata, chairman of the new association of beet growers, said the purchase would include two Great Western Sugar subsidiaries:

—Northern Ohio Sugar Co., with beet acreage and sugar factories at Fremont and Findlay, Ohio, and acreage at Blissfield, Mich.

Atom Test On Or Off?

WASHINGTON (AP) — A five-megaton nuclear bomb had been lowered at least 300 feet into an underground Alaskan test site last week even though President Nixon hadn't given official approval for the blast, congressional sources say.

The bomb, largest ever planned for a subterranean test in North America, was being taken to its blast site more than a mile below the surface when the Atomic Energy Commission furloughed a third of its work force last Thursday, the sources added.

The AEC declined to say where the bomb is now, citing security reason, but the agency did say it would take at least a week to lower the device into the testing area.

The official administration position is that President Nixon has not yet given his approval to the test and, therefore, no date has been determined for setting off the bomb at the Aleutian island of Amchitka off the coast of Alaska.

However, the congressional sources said they had been told by university researchers working on the project the bomb was set to explode sometime between Oct. 1 and Oct. 7.

Miami Conservancy Layoffs Are Slated

New 1972 Pontiacs!

Grand Ville 4-door Hardtop

1972 Grand Ville. Our most luxurious Wide-Track ever... with a new kind of bumper to help protect it.

As on all full-size '72 Pontiacs, the new Grand Ville has an advanced front bumper system that actually "gives" on minor impact and then returns to position. Grand Ville also features an elegant formal roof. Our smoothest, quietest ride. Our richest appointments. A 455 V-8. Power steering. Power front disc brakes. And Turbo Hydra-matic transmission.

1972 Grand Prix. You'll have to decide what's better... the style or the ride.

It won't be easy. The styling's timeless. The ride, smooth and stable. There's a cockpit-styled interior, a 400 V-8, power steering, power front disc brakes and Turbo Hydra-matic. So it's quite a choice. Maybe that's what makes

Grand Prix so interesting to drive.

1972 Luxury LeMans. All the luxury you want without buying more car than you need.

Time was, the only way to get a truly luxurious car was to buy big. No more. Now there's Luxury LeMans—a new mid-size Pontiac with full-size luxury. A distinctive grille, deluxe wheel covers, rear-wheel fender skirts, generous chrome accents, plush carpet, unusually rich fabrics and the look of teak on the dash.

1972 Firebird. Pontiac has taken the rough ride out of the road car. For good.

Considering Firebird's low-slung good looks, that's quite an accomplishment.

But Pontiac engineers redesigned the suspension to help provide a big-car ride and created fantastically comfortable bucket-type seats. You'll also appreciate Firebird's new low price.

1972 Ventura II. The new small Pontiac with the small-car price.

Lots of people build small cars. But Pontiac offers you a small car with prestige and great styling—all at a small-car price. What's more, Ventura II is tough, roomy, stingy with your gas money, and with Body by Fisher, it's built to last. If you like small cars, you'll love the new Ventura II.

That's what keeps Pontiac a cut above.
Don't forget to buckle up for safety.

Atom Test On Or Off?

WASHINGTON (AP) — A five-megaton nuclear bomb had been lowered at least 300 feet into an underground Alaskan test site last week even though President Nixon hadn't given official approval for the blast, congressional sources say.

The bomb, largest ever planned for a subterranean test in North America, was being taken to its blast site more than a mile below the surface when the Atomic Energy Commission furloughed a third of its work force last Thursday, the sources added.

The AEC declined to say where the bomb is now, citing security reason, but the agency did say it would take at least a week to lower the device into the testing area.

The official administration position is that President Nixon has not yet given his approval to the test and, therefore, no date has been determined for setting off the bomb at the Aleutian island of Amchitka off the coast of Alaska.

However, the congressional sources said they had been told by university researchers working on the project the bomb was set to explode sometime between Oct. 1 and Oct. 7.

Miami Conservancy Layoffs Are Slated

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — The Miami Conservancy District's two ecologists will be laid off Sept. 30, District General Manager L. Bennett Coy says.

Coy disclosed Tuesday that head ecologist Ralph Scott and his assistant, Charles Conn, will be furloughed because of a financial pinch confronting the district. Coy said additional layoffs will be announced later this week.

Some Policemen Study

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Police Chief Winston Churchill says about 40 per cent of the Indianapolis Police Department is taking some sort of college course.

Halve, core and slice pears crosswise into crescents. Brush pear crescents and apple slices with lemon juice. Arrange with other fruits on platter. Set a bowl of dressing on each end of platter. Let each person help himself to greens and dip fruits into dressing to make his own salad. Serves 6 to 8.

Salmon and Bartletts combine in this:

SALMON CRUNCH SALAD ON BARTLETTS

- 1 can (1 pound) red salmon
- 1 cup thinly sliced celery
- 3/4 cup dairy sour cream
- 1/4 cup lemon juice
- 1 teaspoon marjoram
- 1/2 teaspoon seasoned salt
- 1/4 cup minced onion
- 2 fresh California Bartlett pears
- Salad greens
- 2 cups crushed potato chips

Drain and flake salmon, discarding skin and bones. Mix salmon with celery, sour cream, 2 tablespoons of the lemon juice, marjoram, salt and onion. Chill. Quarter and core pears; coat with lemon juice and arrange 2 quarters, cut sides up, on greens on each of 4 salad plates. Gently mix potato chips into salmon mixture and spoon between pears on plate. Should be served promptly.

PORK TENDERLOIN WITH PEARS

- 1 pound pork tenderloin, sliced
- 2 tablespoons margarine
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon black pepper
- 1 tablespoon coarsely grated orange rind
- 1/4 cup orange juice
- 1 tablespoon cornstarch
- 3/4 cup water
- 3 tablespoons red wine
- 1 or 2 fresh California Bartlett pears

Fry slices of meat in margarine; sprinkle with salt and pepper.

For sauce, cover orange rind with a little water; bring to a boil. Boil 1 minute, then drain.

Mix orange juice and cornstarch; mix in 3/4 cup water, orange rind and wine. Bring to boil and simmer 10 minutes. Pour over meat.

Pare, core and halve pears; place flat side down and thinly slice. With wide spatula, lift to platter and serve with pork and sauce. Serves 4 with a new treat.

Producer Co-Op Plans Ohio Buy

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Officials of the newly formed Great Western Producers Cooperative have announced intentions to acquire and operate the Great Western Sugar Co., the nation's largest beet sugar producer.

Robert Sakata, chairman of the new association of beet growers, said the purchase would include two Great Western Sugar subsidiaries:

—Northern Ohio Sugar Co., with beet acreage and sugar factories at Fremont and Findlay, Ohio, and acreage at Blissfield, Mich.

—Great Western Railway Co., a short freight line serving northern Colorado sugar factories.

1972 Grand Ville. Our most luxurious Wide-Track ever... with a new kind of bumper to help protect it.

As on all full-size '72 Pontiacs, the new Grand Ville has an advanced front bumper system that actually "gives" on minor impact and then returns to position. Grand Ville also features an elegant formal roof. Our smoothest, quietest ride. Our richest appointments. A 455 V-8. Power steering. Power front disc brakes. And Turbo Hydra-matic transmission.

1972 Grand Prix. You'll have to decide what's better... the style or the ride.

It won't be easy. The styling's timeless. The ride, smooth and stable. There's a cockpit-styled interior, a 400 V-8, power steering, power front disc brakes and Turbo Hydra-matic. So it's quite a choice. Maybe that's what makes

Grand Prix so interesting to drive.

1972 Luxury LeMans. All the luxury you want without buying more car than you need.

Time was, the only way to get a truly luxurious car was to buy big. No more. Now there's Luxury LeMans—a new mid-size Pontiac with full-size luxury. A distinctive grille, deluxe wheel covers, rear-wheel fender skirts, generous chrome accents, plush carpet, unusually rich fabrics and the look of teak on the dash.

1972 Firebird. Pontiac has taken the rough ride out of the road car.

For good. Considering Firebird's low-slung good looks, that's quite an accomplishment.

But Pontiac engineers redesigned the suspension to help provide a big-car ride and created fantastically comfortable bucket-type seats. You'll also appreciate Firebird's new low price.

1972 Ventura II. The new small Pontiac with the small-car price.

Lots of people build small cars. But Pontiac offers you a small car with prestige and great styling—all at a small-car price. What's more, Ventura II is tough, roomy, stingy with your gas money, and with Body by Fisher, it's built to last. If you like small cars, you'll love the new Ventura II.

That's what keeps Pontiac a cut above.
Don't forget to buckle up for safety.

They're all at your Pontiac dealer's now.

U.S. Correctional System Disgraceful?

By MARK BROWN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — "The correction system in the United States is a national disgrace. It corrects little. It rehabilitates few. It does nothing for most of the people who serve time in it. And it does precious little for the society which hopes it will prevent crime."

The words are those of Richard W. Velde, associate administrator of the Justice Department's Law Enforcement Assistance Administration.

The view is a consensus held and expressed by state and federal officials alike.

Degrading and brutal to those within, ignored and neglected by those without, America's prisons and jails are failing to rehabilitate criminals or protect the public.

From Attica in New York to San Quentin in California, 200,000 adult men and women are consigned to spend part of their lives behind prison walls.

From the Tombs in New York City to Orleans Parish Prison in New Orleans, another

1.5 million men, women and children pass through local jails each year, awaiting trial, sentencing or the end of a term.

Inside those walls, many of them built 100 or more years ago, they are exposed at best to poorly financed rehabilitation programs and minimum living conditions. At worst, they live in subhuman squalor, suffering sadistic brutality at the hands of their keepers or fellow prisoners.

For most Americans, the minority behind bars is out of sight and out of mind. Out of mind, that is, until dramatic-ly called to public attention by a riot or a revolt, such as that at Attica, where 40 men lost their lives.

Yet all but a mere 2 per cent of the prisoners will someday return to society where, according to official federal figures, 60 to 70 per cent of them will commit another crime.

Expensive to maintain, even more expensive to rebuild, America's 400 prisons and 4,000 jails are breeding grounds of crime and violence that present, in the words of President Nixon, "a convincing case of failure."

In 1870, the American Corretional Association resolved that "the aim of the prison should be to make industrious free men rather than orderly and obedient prisoners."

Yet 101 years later, despite the urgings of Nixon, Chief Justice Warren E. Burger and scores of others, that aim is unfulfilled.

Of the $1.5 billion spent yearly on corrections in the United States, former Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark estimates that 95 per cent goes for custodial costs: walls, bars and guards. The balance, Clark says, is spent on rehabilitation: education, job training and health services.

Unity Party Petitions Are Probed

CINCINNATI (AP) — One Afro-American Unity Party candidate for Cincinnati City Council was eliminated from the ballot and two others remained under investigation by the Hamilton County Board of Elections in connection with alleged mishandling of election petitions.

The board ousted William Turner from the ballot Monday following the testimony of Mrs. Carrie Smith. Mrs. Smith charged the party members did not file her petitions to run and erased her name from them substituting the names of other candidates.

The board ordered a recount of names on petitions for Neze Tate after disallowing 16 who had originally signed petitions for Mrs. Smith. Each candidate needs 500 signatures. Mrs. Smith said she had 636.

Mrs. Bernice Jackson, secretary of the Afro-American Unity Party, said she had erased Mrs. Smith's name and substituted others at the order of party head Robert Weaver.

She said Weaver, who was also a candidate, told her to make the substitution because Mrs. Smith did not have the required number of signatures. Mrs. Smith told the board she had more than needed.

Gordon Scherer, Republican member of the board, said Weaver's candidacy would be reviewed, but he doubted criminal action would follow. He said it was "shameful" that Mrs. Smith could not now be a candidate since the filing deadline had passed.

U.S. Correctional System Disgraceful?

By MARK BROWN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — "The correction system in the United States is a national disgrace. It corrects little. It rehabilitates few. It does nothing for most of the people who serve time in it. And it does precious little for the society which hopes it will prevent crime."

The words are those of Richard W. Velde, associate administrator of the Justice Department's Law Enforcement Assistance Administration.

The view is a consensus held and expressed by state and federal officials alike.

Degrading and brutal to those within, ignored and neglected by those without, America's prisons and jails are failing to rehabilitate criminals or protect the public.

From Attica in New York to San Quentin in California, 200,000 adult men and women are consigned to spend part of their lives behind prison walls.

From the Tombs in New York City to Orleans Parish Prison in New Orleans, another

1.5 million men, women and children pass through local jails each year, awaiting trial, sentencing or the end of a term.

Inside those walls, many of them built 100 or more years ago, they are exposed at best to poorly financed rehabilitation programs and minimum living conditions. At worst, they live in subhuman squalor, suffering sadistic brutality at the hands of their keepers or fellow prisoners.

For most Americans, the minority behind bars is out of sight and out of mind. Out of mind, that is, until dramatic-ly called to public attention by a riot or a revolt, such as that at Attica, where 40 men lost their lives.

Yet all but a mere 2 per cent of the prisoners will someday return to society where, according to official federal figures, 60 to 70 per cent of them will commit another crime.

Expensive to maintain, even more expensive to rebuild, America's 400 prisons and 4,000 jails are breeding grounds of crime and violence that present, in the words of President Nixon, "a convincing case of failure."

In 1870, the American Correctional Association resolved that "the aim of the prison should be to make industrious free men rather than orderly and obedient prisoners."

Yet 101 years later, despite the urgings of Nixon, Chief Justice Warren E. Burger and scores of others, that aim is unfulfilled.

Of the $1.5 billion spent yearly on corrections in the United States, former Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark estimates that 95 per cent goes for custodial costs: walls, bars and guards. The balance, Clark says, is spent on rehabilitation: education, job training and health services.

Strip Mine Ban Urged By Solon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. John Seiberling, D-Ohio, proposed Tuesday that strip mining of coal be banned or a five-year moratorium be imposed until adequate methods of land reclamation are devised.

His suggestion brought opposition from some members of a House Interior subcommittee, many of whom represent mining districts.

Seiberling told the mines and mining subcommittee that once land is rendered unproductive by stripping operations, there is no going back.

"Not only is the goal gone, but the land too," he said.

Several members of the subcommittee cited some advantages of strip mining, such as low production costs and high volume of coal.

Chairman Ed Edmondson suggested with a grin that Seiberling might recommend a five-year moratorium on automobiles pending a solution of their air pollution problems.

"Or a moratorium on people," said Rep. Craig Hosmer, R-Calif. "Or on flushing toilets," added Rep. James McClure, R-Idaho.

Rep. Clarence Miller, R-Ohio, urged approval of his own bill which he said would require that mined and be returned to its original condition. Stripped coal is cheap, Miller said, "because we don't really consider its environmental costs."

Edmondson said human costs also must be considered. A ban on stripping, he said, would result in increased underground operations which have much greater health and safety hazards for miners.

Cleveland, Lima Plants To Expand

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Ford Motor Co.'s Cleveland Foundry will undergo a multi-million-dollar expansion so that it can provide castings for Pin-to engines starting with 1974 models, it was announced Tuesday.

The castings will be provided for Ford's Lima, Ohio, Engine Plant. The castings and engines are presently made in Europe.

Ford said the Cleveland work force will be expanded from its present 4,200 to about 4,775 and floor space increased 35,900 square feet to 1,408,507 square feet.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — A Chesapeake, Ohio, employee of a store here is back on the job after a harrowing week-end experience.

Charles Hardy, 29, was found Monday morning handcuffed to a pole near the office of the store. He said a gunman had approached him in the store after closing time Sunday night, handcuffed him, and then admitted several accomplices into the building.

After about four hours of work, Hardy said, the men drilled the office safe open then made their getaway. Store officials said about $20,000 was taken.

Judge Halts Waterway

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal judge Tuesday ordered the Army Corps of Engineers to halt construction of the Tennessee-Tombigbee waterway project in Mississippi until he decides whether the project would damage the environment.

District Court Judge John Lewis Smith Jr. issued a preliminary injunction against the controversial project pending a court hearing on a permanent injunction. A permanent injunction would kill the project altogether.

The Tennessee-Tombigbee waterway is a $387-million project to create a barge canal 9 feet deep and 300 feet wide by cutting a link across northeastern Mississippi from the Tennessee to the Tombigbee River.

It would link the Ohio River region with the Gulf of Mexico. The project, long discussed, would take nine years to finish and would use five dams and 10 locks to raise and lower barges to a total of 341 feet.

STAR GRANGE
The first fall meeting of Star Grange was held Tuesday evening in the Monroe School auditorium with Worthy Master Harold Furniss presiding over the business session.

The charter was draped for Mr. Charles Hosler, one of our charter members. It was announced that Star Grange placed first on their booth at the Fair and Mrs. Wilbur Beathard, woman's activities chairman, thanked all who baked pies and helped with the lunch at the fair.

A letter from Deputy Master Paul Dunkle reminded members of several up-coming events, Great Lakes Lecturer's Conference Sept. 24-26 at Imperial House West, Columbus; Confering of Sixth Degree Oct. 2 at 8 p.m. in Frankfort; Annual Session of Ohio State Grange, Oct. 17-20 in Toledo, National Grange, Nov. 13-14 in Charleston W. Va., reservations are still available for the round trip bus sponsored by the Pickaway Grange Youth.

Also a county-wide installation will be held Oct. 12 at Washington Grange and all officers are urged to attend. As this is the regular meeting date for Star Grange, there will be no meeting here that evening.

Election of officers was held with the following results: Master, Harold Furniss; overseer, Robert Morgan; Lecturer, Joan Dawson; Steward, Clark Dennis; Assistant Steward, Jim Beathard; Chaplain, Laura Long; treasurer, Fran Follrod; secretary, Helen Hammel; Galekeeper, Wilbur Beathard; Ceres, Ethel Furniss; Pomona, Mabel Storer; Flora, Mildred Morgan; lady assistant steward, Ernestine Lewis; legislative agent, Allen Follrod; pianist, Helen Hammel; executive commander, Otha Lewis; junior grange matron, Mildred Davis.

During the concluding social fellowship the Women's Activity Committee served cookies, sandwiches, iced tea and coffee from a tea table centered with a lovely arrangement of fall flowers.

Nude Swim

Costs Sextet

Total $300

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Disdain for swim suits and preference for swimming in the buff has cost six persons fines of $50 apiece.

They were advised by suburban Bedford Municipal Court Judge Joseph A. Zingales Monday: "Swimming would be a lot cheaper for you if you bought bathing suits."

One of the six, Cathy L. Carlson, 22, of Euclid, said she preferred a workhouse sentence to paying the fine and drew a five-day sentence.

Three men swimming with her in Tinker's Creek south of here on Labor Day were David Ferrand, 18, Green Castle, Ind.; Lance F. Weber, 20, of Chagrin Falls, and Roger Zaken, 18, of Mayfield Heights.

Two other men were fined for swimming nude Aug. 8. They were Arthur Hoishauer, 20, of Bedford Heights, and James Cubak, 20, of Garfield Heights.

Zaken paid an additional $44 in fines for parking in a no parking zone and having a loosely attached license plate.

Zaken said he has decided to "call it quits" for skinny dipping and summed up the whole misadventure: "Like, wow!"

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Well, you might consider this one — Kareem Abdul Jabbar, the new name of Lew Alcindor, the Milwaukee Bucks' cage star. Lew said he received that name when he was converted recently to the Islamic faith.

PTA News

The first meeting of the Pickaway Parent Teacher Organization was held on Sept. 9, with Mrs. Charles Hardin, president, presiding.

The Ronald Dreisbach family had the devotions for the evening.

Mrs. Hardin introduced the officers for the coming year. Mrs. Gene Kerns gave the secretary report and Mrs. Gifford gave the treasurers report; both stood approved as read.

Grade 1 won the roll call. Al Gabriel, principal, introduced the teachers for the coming year.

Bob Caudill manager of the minor, little league baseball team gave each boy a trophy from Owens-Illinois for winning first place in the league.

Fred Redman along with Jerry Collins and Walt Davis managers of the Major baseball team gave each one of their boys a trophy from DuPont for winning first place.

Refreshments were served. The next meeting will be Oct. 8.

Duncan Selected For U.S. Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. William B. Saxbe R-Ohio, said Tuesday he has been notified by the White House that Ohio Supreme Court Justice Robert M. Duncan has been nominated to fill a vacancy on the United States Court of Military Appeals.

Duncan, 44, of Columbus, Ohio, was nominated to a 15-year term. If confirmed by the U.S. Senate, Duncan would fill the vacancy of Judge Homer Ferguson, who was not renominated.

All-Volunteer Army

Progress Too Slow

WASHINGTON (AP) — The general in charge of raising an all-volunteer Army by mid-1973 says it will be impossible to meet the deadline under current conditions.

Lt. Gen. George I. Forsythe said: "Although we're going to try and do our level best, we are not going to make it. I do not believe, in the time that has been prescribed for us to do this. That's just too short a time."

FOR THE GRAIN—These 72 green "factory fresh" covered hopper cars near Big Lake, Minn., are the first of 500 being delivered to Burlington Northern for this year's grain. These cars represent about $1 million in rolling stock from ACF Industries, Huntington, W. Va. Each car can hold 3,720 bushels of wheat.

Jackson Shot In Back, Final Autopsy Reports

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (AP) — Black militant George Jackson was killed by a bullet which entered his back, not his head, during an escape attempt at San Quentin Prison in which six men died, a final autopsy report says.

A preliminary report by Marin County Coroner Donovan O. Cooke had said the bullet entered Jackson's head and exited through his back.

Responding to the final report issued by Cooke Tuesday, prison authorities repeated their original report that Jackson was shot to death by a tower guard as he attempted to escape the prison.

During the Aug. 21 violence, three guards, Jackson and two other convicts were killed.

Prison officials say a gun was smuggled into the prison by attorney Stephen Bingham, who is being sought on a murder warrant. Jackson hid it in an Afro-style wig and pulled it out to start an abortive escape attempt, they said.

The prison said at the time Jackson was shot by a guard in a 20-foot high tower.

San Quentin Warden Louis S. Nelson, responding to newsman's questions about the new autopsy report, said the tower guard reported Jackson was hit as he ran in a crouched position with his back to the tower.

"It seems perfectly logical to me he might have been hit low in the back and the bullet coursed upward," Nelson said. "According to our reports, Jackson was struck by a bullet fragment and was knocked down and he got up and was running in a crouched, bent-over position."

Nelson again denied allegations that Jackson was murdered by guards—shot on the floor and his body dragged outside.

The mother of the 30-year-old convict-author said in New York Tuesday that her family is seeking to petition the United Nations to investigate the death.

"We haven't heard anything from any official about George's death—only what I read in the newspapers," said Georgia Jackson. She claimed that neither the U.S. government nor the State of California would conduct an unbiased investigation.

Gas Station Owner Slain

EATON, Ohio (AP) — The owner of a service station near here was killed and then two of his alleged assailants were shot in a gun battle Tuesday afternoon with his brother.

Marvin Wehrley was fatally shot after he and four people got into an argument over use of a credit card.

Wehrley's brother, Dale, who is chief of police here, was working at the station and after hearing a shot, ran out of the building and found his brother dead. Then he opened fire on the four as they ran for their car and sped off.

A man identified as Phillip Jacobs, 28, was listed in guarded condition today at Good Samaritan Hospital in nearby Dayton. A woman identified as Deborah Gromes was reported in satisfactory condition. Each had been shot.

Police arrested a juvenile and a 24-year-old man and said they would be charged in the case. Their names were not immediately available.

Tern's Turn To Become Extinct

CAMP PENDLETON, Calif. (AP) — After the dodo bird, is it the tern's turn?

Conservationists say the least tern, a seacoast bird the size of a small dove, is threatened with extinction.

It's found only along the southern California coast, and of 12 nesting sites remaining only three are capable of producing any significant number of chicks.

The largest nesting site is located at the mouth of the Santa Margarita River at this giant Marine base, a recent survey of the California Fish and Game Department showed.

An official at Camp Pendleton said 325 nests were recently located along with 650 eggs. A barricade has been put up by the Marines to keep their vehicles from crushing the tiny eggs.

The least tern lays an average of two eggs per clutch in a depression scooped from the sand. There is no nest like other birds build. The tern's eggs are the size of a one-inch gumball and their buff color and black speckles blend with the sand.

When the chicks hatch, they're fuzzy white balls with black spots.

The nesting terns, who apparently prefer public property, also congregate in San Diego's city-owned Mission Bay. There the American Catecean Society, or whale-watchers, divide their time with viewing a tern or two. "We keep someone at the sites during daylight hours," says Al Pentis, president of the whale watchers. "When people with motor bikes or dogs show up, we just tell them about the birds."

But, Pentis said, "we have lost 8 or 10 chickadees — there were dog tracks all around."

Today there may be only 900 least terns left, said director Alan Longhurst of the U.S. Fisheries Laboratory in La

NEW YORK (AP) — Network television entertainment on Tuesday nights is a cut above that of most other nights—several pretty good action series, a couple of variety hours, a new movie-for-TV and a doctor show.

Since no one can see all the shows, viewers must make some difficult decisions.

A tough one involves the early evening when ABC's "Mod Squad" and NBC's "Ironside" are in head-on competition. This is deliberate programming by NBC—pitting its most popular police action show against ABC's most popular police show. The winner of the ratings contest is likely to be CBS' Glen Campbell, with whodunit fans' split between two programs of the same genre opposite him.

The singer's second program of the new season looked a lot like his variety hours of last season—lots of singing, a little comedy and brief turns by the guest stars—the ubiquitous Bob Hope, the Smothers Brothers and Dionne Warwick.

It is a nice, easy program with unfailing good taste and handsome production values, but also is a little bland.

That dedicated, understanding general practitioner, Marcus Welby, was busy on ABC at evening's end, mending the torn fabric of an 11-year-old orphan's life and patching up the deteriorating marriage of the couple who adopted her.

Robert Young continues to portray convincingly the concerned man of medicine—he was making a 2 a.m. house call in the episode—and the story was less drama than a lesson in human relations.

The show tugs at the heart, has a tendency to be sudsy—and should be good for a lot more seasons of television.

Expensive Trip By Railway Car

PARIS (AP) — Passenger trains are still very much alive in France, and so are those luxurious private railway cars seen today mostly in old western movies.

The Compagnie des Wagons-Lits recently rented one to a rich woman from Versailles described only as Mrs. Fisher, 72, who suffers from arthritis. It cost her $900 for the 450-mile trip from Paris to Nice.

But the price included a crystal and rare-wood decorated living room, dining room, two master bedrooms, a four-bedroom for servants and a kitchen.

Jola. He blames home-building in canyons, campgrounds and crannies.

"I feel rather cynical and disillusioned about the whole thing," Dr. Longhurst said. "We are turning the world into something like a poultry farm for human beings."

How The Weather Looks

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Following is the Ohio weather summary from the National Weather Service:

Clear, fall weather was expected to continue across the state today and tonight as a high pressure area dominated Ohio skies.

Temperatures climbed to the low 70s in extreme southern Ohio Tuesday, but readings failed to get out of the 60s in the rest of the state, despite sunny skies.

Lows plummeted to the 40s over most of the state last night, with Toledo reporting a chilling 40 degrees at 3 a.m., only a few degrees above the city's low for this date.

Mostly sunny weather was forecast to continue today with cloudiness expected to reach western sections of the state this evening.

Showers are forecast tomorrow as a weak front crosses the state, bringing even cooler weather.

FORECASTS

OHIO — Increasing cloudiness and not so cool tonight. lows in the upper 40s and low 50s. Mostly cloudy with little temperature change Thursday. Highs in the upper 60s and low 70s.

NORTHWEST INLAND, SOUTHWEST, SOUTHEAST—Increasing cloudiness and not so cool tonight. Lows in the upper 40s and low 50s. Mostly cloudy with little temperature change Thursday. Highs in the upper 60s and low 70s.

DELTA 88 ROYALE There's more built-in toughness. A new front bumper absorbs minor parking lot impacts: it flexes, gives a little—then returns to position. On the road, its "G-Ride" System helps deliver exceptional ride and handling, with Supershocks, computer-matched springs, and other interrelated components. And Delta 88 now includes more standard equipment: power steering, power front disc brakes, power ventilation, automatic transmission—and a long list of GM safety features. Delta 88: Strong. Tough. Smooth. Not just another pretty car.

TORONADO The one personal luxury car that puts it all together in quite a different way. Toronado's Rocket 455 power goes to the front wheels to pull the car over the road with superb traction, ride and handling. Inside, Toronado is spacious and comfortable. There is ample room for six, including their feet—for there is no hump on the floor. In luxury, in styling, in quality, it is uniquely Toronado. There's nothing common about it.

Jackson Shot In Back, Final Autopsy Reports

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (AP) — Black militant George Jackson was killed by a bullet which entered his back, not his head, during an escape attempt at San Quentin Prison in which six men died, a final autopsy report says.

A preliminary report by Marin County Coroner Donovan O. Cooke had said the bullet entered Jackson's head and exited through his back.

Responding to the final report issued by Cooke Tuesday, prison authorities repeated their original report that Jackson was shot to death by a tower guard as he attempted to escape the prison.

During the Aug. 21 violence, three guards, Jackson and two other convicts were killed.

Prison officials say a gun was smuggled into the prison by attorney Stephen Bingham, who is being sought on a murder warrant. Jackson hid it in an Afro-style wig and pulled it out to start an abortive escape attempt, they said.

The prison said at the time Jackson was shot by a guard in a 20-foot high tower.

San Quentin Warden Louis S. Nelson, responding to news-men's questions about the new autopsy report, said the tower guard reported Jackson was hit as he ran in a crouched position with his back to the tower.

"It seems perfectly logical to me he might have been hit low in the back and the bullet coursed upward," Nelson said. "According to our reports, Jackson was struck by a bullet fragment and was knocked down and he got up and was running in a crouched, bent-over position."

Nelson again denied allegations that Jackson was murdered by guards—shot on the floor and his body dragged outside.

The mother of the 30-year-old convict-author said in New York Tuesday that her family is seeking to petition the United Nations to investigate the death.

"We haven't heard anything from any official about George's death—only what I read in the newspapers," said Georgia Jackson. She claimed that neither the U.S. government nor the State of California would conduct an unbiased investigation.

Gas Station Owner Slain

EATON, Ohio (AP) — The owner of a service station near here was killed and then two of his alleged assailants were shot in a gun battle Tuesday afternoon with his brother.

Marvin Wehrley was fatally shot after he and four people got into an argument over use of a credit card.

Wehrley's brother, Dale, who is chief of police here, was working at the station and after hearing a shot, ran out of the building and found his brother dead. Then he opened fire on the four as they ran for their car and sped off.

A man identified as Phillip Jacobs, 28, was listed in guarded condition today at Good Samaritan Hospital in nearby Dayton. A woman identified as Deborah Gromes was reported in satisfactory condition. Each had been shot.

Police arrested a juvenile and a 24-year-old man and said they would be charged in the case. Their names were not immediately available.

The new season has its first drop-out. "Quarterly Report," which had its premiere on NBC Sept. 9, will be a one-time program. The sponsor has pulled out of what was to be a series of four programs. Word around the network is that the underwriting company found the program too controversial.

The network news department plans to fill the periods reserved for the program in December, March and June with other actuality specials.

The initial program handled subjects ranging from the vote of 18-year-olds to the status of the death penalty in various states. While it did not seem to be very controversial, correspondents of the network appeared to have considerable editorial freedom in expressing viewpoints.

Brezhnev Visits Yugoslavia To Assert Soviet Interests

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — The Soviet Communist party leader, Leonid I. Brezhnev, came to Yugoslavia today in a bid to reassert Moscow's interests in the Balkans.

He was met by assertions that the Soviet Union must recognize Yugoslavia's sovereignty and independence in order to improve relations between the two Communist states.

Brezhnev flew into Belgrade airport from Moscow and was met by Yugoslav President Tito and a military band.

As he came, newspapers that reflect government views hit the streets with editorials containing a strong reminder of the 1955 Soviet declaration recognizing Yugoslavia's sovereignty, equality and the right to noninterference in its internal affairs.

Vecernje Novosti, the country's largest circulation daily, said cooperation and friendship with Moscow must develop "based on respect of principles" of the noninterference rule.

It said the 1955 accord was "a healthy basis" for improving Yugoslav-Soviet ties. The daily newspaper, Borba, main voice of Yugoslavia's mass Socialist Alliance, made the same point.

The Yugoslavs arranged a welcome designed to express cordiality and the importance of Brezhnev's talks with Tito.

His route into Belgrade from the airport was sprinkled with Soviet and Yugoslav flags, and with side-by-side portraits of himself and Tito.

The Soviet Union termed the four-day visit an "unofficial, friendly" one. Yugoslavia played it up on a grander scale, apparently to heighten the importance of any concessions by Brezhnev to this Communist country's policy of independence from Moscow.

Tubes Dangerous As Floating Gear

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Floating lazily off the beach in an inner tube may sound like the ultimate in cool, relaxing summer enjoyment, but the largest manufacturer of inner tubes and tires warns that tubes should not be a substitute for flotation gear.

Water equipment is the most popular off-the-job use for inner tubes, but they should never take the place of approved life jackets, ski belts or ski vests.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Being A Crier Has One Big Advantage

DEAR ABBY: Can you help me! I cry easily, and once I get going, I can't control myself. My son is getting married soon and I don't want to start crying.

Sermons in church make me cry. By mistake I went to a graduation mass and didn't know anybody graduating, but I cried just as if one of my kids was graduating.

And when I go to a wedding, the minute I step inside the church I start to cry, and I cry all the way through the reception. At funerals and wakes nobody cries but me. A couple of times I went to funerals with my friends and I hardly knew the deceased, but I cried so hard everyone thought I was a relative.

In school here a parent-teacher conference is necessary even if your child has no problem, so while the teacher was telling me good things about my child I started crying. Now they don't even ask me to come to school for conferences.

I went to a doctor six years ago about this, and after listening to me for half an hour he said, "So everyone knows you're a crier. Just don't let it bother you. Think this way, you will never have an ulcer or a nervous breakdown because you express your emotions."

Can you give me any advice, Abby?

DEAR CRIS: I can't give you any better advice than the doctor gave you. Take it.

DEAR ABBY: Ellen, my 8-year-old daughter, was recently released from the hospital and confined to her bed, so I asked my regular sitter to come over while I did some shopping and errands.

When the sitter arrived, I noticed she had her needlepoint with her. Before I left, I instructed the sitter to read to Ellen and then play some quiet games with her.

When I returned home, the sitter was working on her needlepoint and Ellen was practically in tears, watching television.

After the sitter left, Ellen told me the sitter didn't read to her at all she had played only one game with her, and then told her to watch television because she wanted to work on her needlepoint.

This really burned me, Abby, exactly what is a sitter supposed to do?

DEAR MOTHER: She's supposed to sit—unless she's asked to do something more and has agreed to do it.

DEAR ABBY: My mother, my married sister and my best friend who is married all tell me no matter how well a woman treats a man, or how good the man is, he will be unfaithful to his wife or girl friend sooner or later.

They say it is something every woman must accept, and know how to deal with. Is this true, Abby?

Maybe I'm too idealistic, but it is hard for me to believe all men are too shallow to carry on a pure relationship with only one woman. I am engaged to be married soon, and absolute faithfulness means a great deal to me. So, if what they say is true, how should I be dealt with?

HAS FAITH

DEAR HAS: They are wrong. And don't worry about how to deal with a problem until it's a reality.

DEAR ABBY: If a person eating at a restaurant slips an ashtray with the name of the restaurant into his pocket as a souvenir, is it considered stealing?

I have heard some restaurant owners consider it a compliment, and it's a good way of advertising. Is this true?

DIXFIELD, ME.

DEAR DIXFIELD: When one takes something that belongs to someone else it is stealing. The kind of compliments and advertising you suggest costs restaurants millions of dollars every year. If you want a souvenir, offer to buy it. They'll probably give it to you.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

38,000 Attend Texas Colleges On GI Bill

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — About 38,000 veterans are expected to attend Texas colleges and universities this fall under the GI Bill, says Jack Coker, regional director for the Veterans Administration.

More than 3,200 veterans attended schools in Travis County last spring under the federally financed plan, representing more than $1.5 million in grants.

Most of them — 2,653 veterans — attended the University of Texas.

Efficiency Reports Funny But Vague, Air Force Told

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force passed word this week that more care and less wit should go into preparation of officer efficiency reports—annual statements that can make or break a man's career.

After sampling a collection of these reports which weigh heavily in promotion decisions, the Air Force found that they too often are whimsically written.

The Air Force Administration Newsletter offered a few examples, which it said "caused some hilarity among those who happened to be reading them" but not among those affected by them.

One officer was described as being able to "express a sentence in two paragraphs" while another was said to "need careful watching since he borders on the brilliant."

Other examples: "An independent thinker with a mediocre mentality."

"His leadership is outstanding except for his lack of ability to get along with his subordinates."

"Maintains good relations unilaterally."

"Is keenly analytical and his highly developed mentality could best be used in the research-and development field. He lacks common sense."

"Is stable under pressure and is not influenced by superiors."

"Recently married: devotes more time to this activity than to his current assignment."

In writing these reports, the Air Force suggested commanders "should be clear and concise in your writing. Write what you mean and mean what you write."

Greyhound Bus Crash Injures 6

WHEELING, W. Va. (AP)—A Greyhound bus bound from Columbus, Ohio, to New York City with 39 aboard ran off Interstate 70 near here Tuesday injuring five persons.

Officials said three persons were treated and released. Mr. and Mrs. Reid Carson of Greensburg, Pa., were listed in satisfactory condition with back injuries at a Wheeling hospital.

The bus reportedly went off I-70 about 6:30 a.m., down an embankment and into a creek.

Greyhound officials from Pittsburgh were in Wheeling by late morning to investigate the accident.

A couple of times I went to funerals with my friends and I hardly knew the deceased, but I cried so hard everyone thought I was a relative.

In school here a parent-teacher conference is necessary even if your child has no problem, so while the teacher was telling me good things about my child I started crying. Now they don't even ask me to come to school for conferences.

I went to a doctor six years ago about this, and after listening to me for half an hour he said, "So everyone knows you're a crier. Just don't let it bother you. Think this way, you will never have an ulcer or a nervous breakdown because you express your emotions."

Can you give me any advice, Abby?

DEAR ABBY: I can't give you any better advice than the doctor gave you. Take it.

DEAR ABBY: Ellen, my 8-year-old daughter, was recently released from the hospital and confined to her bed, so I asked my regular sitter to come over while I did some shopping and errands.

When the sitter arrived, I noticed she had her needlepoint with her. Before I left, I instructed the sitter to read to Ellen and then play some quiet games with her.

When I returned home, the sitter was working on her needlepoint and Ellen was practically in tears, watching television.

After the sitter left, Ellen told me the sitter didn't read to her at all—she had played only one game with her, and then told her to watch television because she wanted to work on her needlepoint.

This really burned me. Abby, exactly what is a sitter supposed to do?

ELLEN'S MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: She's supposed to sit—unless she's asked to do something more and has agreed to do it.

DEAR ABBY: My mother, my married sister and my best friend who is married all tell me no matter how well a woman treats a man, or how good the man is, he will be unfaithful to his wife or girl friend sooner or later.

They say it is something every woman must accept, and know how to deal with. Is this true, Abby?

Maybe I'm too idealistic, but it is hard for me to believe all men are too shallow to carry on a pure relationship with only one woman. I am engaged to a man, and it's a good way of advertising. Is this true!

DIXFIELD, ME.
DEAR DIXFIELD: When one takes something that belongs to someone else it is stealing. The kind of compliments and advertising you suggest costs restaurants millions of dollars every year. If you want a souvenir, offer to buy it. They'll probably give it to you.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

DEAR ABBY: If a person eating at a restaurant slips an ashtray with the name of the restaurant into his pocket as a souvenir, is it considered stealing?

DEAR ABBY: I have heard some restaurant owners consider it a compliment, and it's a good way of advertising. Is this true!

Efficiency Reports Funny But Vague, Air Force Told

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force passed word this week that more care and less wit should go into preparation of officer efficiency reports—annual statements that can make or break a man's career.

After sampling a collection of these reports which weigh heavily in promotion decisions, the Air Force found that they too often are whimsically written.

The Air Force Administration Newsletter offered a few examples, which it said "caused some hilarity among those who happened to be reading them" but not among those affected by them.

One officer was described as being able to "express a sentence in two paragraphs" while another was said to "need careful watching since he borders on the brilliant."

Other examples: "An independent thinker with a mediocre mentality."

"His leadership is outstanding except for his lack of ability to get along with his subordinates."

"Maintains good relations unilaterally."

"Is keenly analytical and his highly developed mentality could best be used in the research and development field. He lacks common sense."

"Is stable under pressure and is not influenced by superiors."

"Recently married: devotes more time to this activity than to his current assignment."

In writing these reports, the Air Force suggested commanders "should be clear and concise in your writing. Write what you mean and mean what you write."

Greyhound Bus Crash Injures 6

WHEELING, W. Va. (AP) — A Greyhound bus bound for Columbus, Ohio, to New York City with 39 aboard ran off Interstate 70 near here Tuesday, injuring five persons.

Officials said three persons were treated and released, and Mrs. Reid Carson Greensburg, Pa., were listed in satisfactory condition with injuries at a Wheeling hospital. The bus reportedly went off Interstate 70 about 6:30 a.m., down embankment and into a creek. Greyhound officials from Pittsburgh were in Wheeling late morning to investigate accident.

Fair Skies Prevalent

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Fair and pleasant weather favored most of the nation today, but snow and rain again chilled the region from the Rockies to the upper Mississippi Valley.

As mixed rain and snow continued falling on the Colorado Rockies, Weather Service warnings of hazardous driving conditions remained in effect.

Rain dampened the adjoining Central Plains and spread into the upper Mississippi Valley. Temperatures in the 30s and 40s were common in the north-central states.

Showers and thunderstorms doused the southern portion of the nation.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 28 at Butte, Mont., and Evanston, Wyo., to 81 at Fort Lauderdale, Key West and Miami, Fla.

Some other reports: Boston 57 clear, New York 58 clear, Philadelphia 56 clear, Washington 60 clear, Atlanta 67 clear, Miami 81 clear, Detroit 44 clear, Chicago 54 clear, Minneapolis-St. Paul 51 rain, St. Louis 54 clear, Kansas City 61 partly cloudy, Dallas 66 partly cloudy, Denver 36 drizzle, Phoenix 75 clear, Los Angeles 64 clear, San Francisco 60 clear, Seattle 57 clear, Anchorage 49 rain, Honolulu 75.

Menu Founded On Pizza, Peanut Butter In Future?

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Cooking experts and fancy food fans are predictably piqued at a nutritionist's suggestion that the menu of the future may be founded on such things as peanut butter and pizza.

"Deplorable," said one cooking teacher; "purgatory," said another. "A rash statement," commented a gourmet shop manager; "impossible," sneered a restaurant owner.

The suggestion came from Dr. George C. Graham of Johns Hopkins University. He predicted that modern technology would enable women to spend less time in the kitchen and to serve nutritional diets composed of "hand foods"—sandwiches, pizzas, rolls and pastry. The forerunners of the future, Graham contended, are hamburgers and peanut butter and jelly sandwiches.

A spot check of professional cooking experts, gourmet shops and others dealing in fancy foods showed reaction ranging from dismay to outrage.

Julia Child, whose syndicated show introduced thousands to the intricacies of haute cuisine, commented:

"What a deplorable, miserable situation to live in—peanut butter sandwiches and pizzas. Cooking is a creative art and people, particularly young people, are beginning to find it out."

Maurice Moore-Betty, a Briton who runs a cooking school in New York and who recently authored a cookbook, said of the suggestion: "My reaction is horror. I don't see why fine cooking should die out any more than people should give up painting or music."

What does he think of a diet of peanut butter and pizza? "It would be purgatory," said Moore-Betty. "I can't imagine anything worse."

One of the few exceptions to the general dismay was Graham Kerr, the "Galloping Gourmet" television chef with the casual approach to complicated recipes.

In a telephone interview from Bournemouth, England, Kerr said of the new food, "It's got to happen. If we don't take some sort of rational approach to in-depth agriculture, only the very, very rich will be able to eat natural food. What is considered good food today is going to be prohibitively expensive."

Besides, he said, "I predict that within 25 years 60 per cent of the people will be living on pills and a milky substance obtained from roots."

Ohio Highway Consultants Defended

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A state Department of Highway Safety official says two consultants hired to advise the department are "eminently qualified" for the job.

Frank Ryan, administrative assistant to Director Eugene O'Grady, said there was nothing wrong or illegal about the hiring of Lorain County Treasurer J. Grant Keys, a former highway safety director, and Joseph Wolf, a former Keys aide.

O'Grady was not available for comment.

The Columbus Dispatch reported Tuesday that Keys was paid $500 and Wolf $1,030 for their services.

Ryan said Keys, who was highway safety director under former Gov. Michale DiSalle and now is chairman of Gov. John Gilligan's Traffic Safety Committee, was paid $100 a day for helping O'Grady organize the department under the new administration.

Wolf, an Ohio Highway patrolman for 28 years before serving with Keys, was hired as a state consultant at a rate of $10 per hour and was paid for 103 hours work, Ryan said.

"We could have gone out and hired someone else and paid the same amount and gotten a lot less," Ryan added.

Ohio Judge Looks Toward Military Court

By PERRY SMITH
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Robert M. Duncan, the blue-eyed Negro nominated by President Nixon to the U.S. Military Court of Appeals, describes himself as "a constitutionalist who hopes the law will be applied equally."

The Ohio Supreme Court justice said it is a philosophy he will take to his new job. Typically, he refused to discuss the Lt. William Calley case because, "I may have to rule upon it."

Duncan, 44, took the nomination Tuesday in stride. He still needs confirmation by the U.S. Senate before assuming the $42,500 per year post.

"I'm not rushing off to Washington right away," the light complexioned justice said. "I'm going to keep reading these (Supreme Court) briefs."

If his appointment is confirmed, Duncan would succeed Homer Ferguson, 82, whose term on the three-judge court expired last May. The appointment will be for 15 years.

Duncan is a protégé of U.S. Sen. William Saxbe, R-Ohio. They met while Duncan was working his way through Ohio State University at the airport in his native Urbana, Ohio.

Duncan, whose parents were divorced when he was 10, worked his way through school. "I had all the encouragement from my family to get an education a man could have," he said.

Duncan, raised by his grandparents and his father, recalled "the work ethic was a philosophy of my family. Everybody worked."

His mother, Wanda, and his stepfather, John Williams, moved to Columbus from Chicago last May.

His father, Benjamin, died in 1967.

Duncan said he is sure there will be a difference between the new job and the $30,000-a-year state judgeship he now holds.

"The military court decides what cases to hear, somewhat the way we do here," he said. "The fundamental principles of appellate review are the same. Obviously, though, I'll have to go through a new learning experience."

Duncan has been one of the most popular members of the Ohio bench. He won the respect of lawyers during his years in the attorney general's office.

He obtained his undergraduate degree at Ohio State in 1948, and his law degree from the same school in 1952.

After that, he spent two years as court martial clerk with the 196th Regimental Combat Team in Alaska. "That qualified as combat duty," he recalls.

After discharge, Saxbe, by then attorney general, made Duncan an assistant. He was a Columbus city prosecutor "for four years while Saxbe was out of office."

When Saxbe regained the attorney general's office for eight additional years, Duncan became chief of the worker's compensation section, then chief counsel.

2 Young Servicemen Set Motorcycle Tour Of U.S.

HAMPTON, Va. (AP) — Two young servicemen will launch a 9,000-mile motorcycle tour of the United States Thursday in an effort to convince the nation's youth that today's military really is changing.

The tour was the idea of Spec. 4 Douglas Reitmeyer who says he once considered fleeing to Canada to escape the draft. He said he finally enlisted with the idea that "if I didn't like it I'd go AWOL."

Reitmeyer and Spec. 4 Michael Speegle, both 22, start their tour in New York Thursday.

They were in Hampton Tuesday after a briefing by officials at the Army Recruiting Command, but they are adamant on one point—they may be the Army's motorcycle missionaries, but they are not motorized recruiters.

"I told them that if they won't let me say exactly what I want to say then I don't want to go on the trip," Reitmeyer said, explaining he doesn't want the young people he meets to associate him with recruiting.

"I'm a civilian at heart and I want to approach these kids on that level," he said.

Reitmeyer's view of the Army changed drastically a month after he enlisted. That was last year when the modern volunteer army program was initiated.

Conditions in the service changed so radically, he said, he changed his mind about going AWOL and decided the Army could not only be tolerated, it could be enjoyed.

The changes in Army life, he said, "came so quickly that they kind of stunned everybody."

Instead of standing five formations a day, he was standing four. Then only one. And weekend passes were extended to allow more travel, two-man rooms became the rule rather than the exception and "the food was getting fantastic."

13-YEAR-OLD HERO — Teddy Dizon, 13, Cambridge, Mass., shows his gold medal presented to him at the International Association of Fire Chiefs meeting in St. Louis. The Junior Fire Marshal Gold Medal of Honor was given to him for saving the lives of his mother and five brothers and sisters from their blazing home.

County Schools Ready For Friday Grid Action

All three county schools will be looking for their first victory of the 1971 grid wars Friday night and at least one has a good chance of coming away a victor.

Teays Valley and Logan Elm clash on the Ashville turf.

Both the Vikings and Braves enter the game after suffering rough losses last Friday. Teays Valley lost to Circleville's Tigers 36-6, but displayed an awesome toughness that slowed the CHS machine to an 8-6 halftime score.

"We were depressed after the Circleville game," related Viking coach Dick Kidwell, "but after reviewing films of the game Monday, we were pleased to see what a really good game we did play."

"Our offensive line impressed us, and we feel we're on the verge of jelling into a league contender."

Offensively, Kidwell plans the same basic power game that the Vikings have employed in their first two games. Traps by the offensive line and off-tackle power plays should prove a potent offensive threat against Logan Elm, Kidwell feels.

And he has the passing attack of sophomore quarterback

Terry Lambert. Lambert went 8 for 16 against Wehrle two weeks ago, and was the only offensive threat the Vikings could muster. Harassed by the Tigers, he was ineffective on 10 passes Friday.

To counter Teays Valley's rushing threat, Bob Stant, Logan Elm Brave mentor, plans to uncover the Notre Dame 4-4 defense that proved effective last year against the Vikings.

"We know the Vikings will run at our middle Friday," Stant said, "but we stopped their traps last year with the Notre Dame defense and I feel we can stop them this year."

A PATCHED-UP Logan Elm squad battled Carroll on even terms last Friday for the first half before finally bowing 26-0.

Logan Elm injured include left halfback Rick Blankenship, who suffered a knee injury; right half Ken Kurtz, who is resting a pulled leg ligament; Greg Justus, Kurtz's replacement against Carroll and voted the offensive player of the game, is suffering a groin injury; fullback Wertie Teets is out with an ankle injury; tackles Steve Pusey and Dan Dean, are both sidelined by bad knees.

Offensively, Stant hopes the Braves can gain ground on Teays Valley from their wishbone set by running outside, with occasional jolts at the center of the line and quick passes.

On the other side of the county, Westfall coach Bill

Vance is trying to prepare his patched-up Mustangs for an East Clinton invasion.

The Mustangs, victims of Madison Plains 32-6 Friday, will be operating with three starters as doubtful players in the tilt.

Quarterback Dave Shannon, who piloted his team to a strong showing against Madison Plains, suffered a broken thumb on his throwing hand and could see only limited action Friday.

FULLBACK Larry Harris is suffering a groin injury and Randy Long has 7 stitches on a head cut.

East Clinton sports a 1-1 record coming into the contest. They lost to Unioto 10-0 in their first game and rebounded to crush Western 48-0.

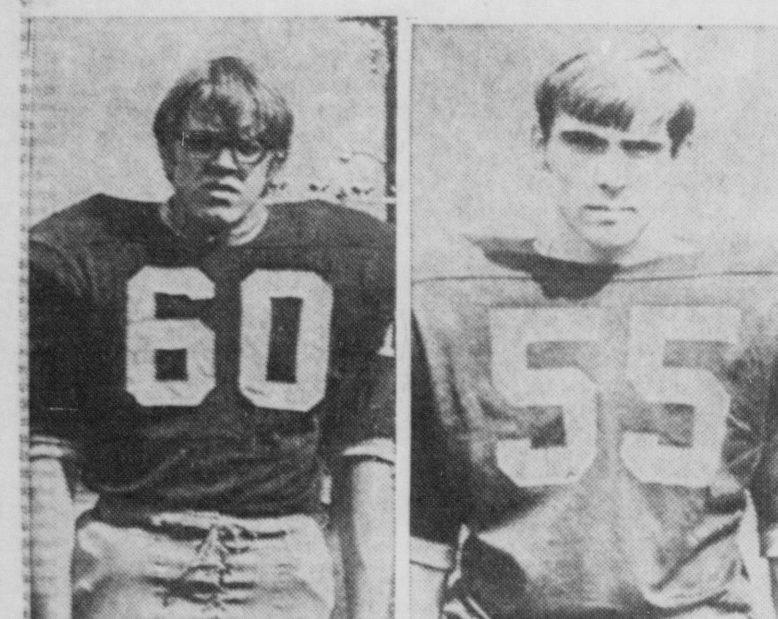

According to Vance, East Clinton is a running team with a strong ground game. They employ a confusing multiple set offense and an equally strong 4-4 multiple set defense.

Vance feels his charges can gain ground off tackle and around the ends of the big Clinton team.

SPORTS

Grid Forecaster Sees Ohio State Over Colorado

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Around the University of Tennessee this week the password is "War Eagle."

"Normally, 'War Eagle' is the battle cry of the Auburn Tigers—the origin is kind of fuzzy and you can hear a number of histories—who invade Knoxville on Saturday for an early season Southeastern Conference showdown with the Volunteers."

The Tigers are fifth and the Vols ninth in The Associated Press rankings. A year ago, Tennessee finished fourth and Auburn 10th, but the Tigers spoiled UT's otherwise perfect season with a 36-23 triumph.

"That loss has stuck in their craw," says Shug Jordan, Auburn's coach, "and you can't over rule out the psychological, emotional side of football."

It will be Auburn's explosive Pat Sullivan-Terry Beasley aerial attack against Tennessee's veteran defense.

Armed with the knowledge that it's usually suicide to pick against the home team in the SEC ... AUBURN.

"Colorado at Ohio State—the first-ever meeting between the Buffs and the Bucks pair two more Top Ten teams, No. 6 Ohio State and No. 10 Colorado. New quarterbacks have been impressive. Don Lamka for Ohio and Ken Johnson and Joe Duenas for Colorado. The Buffs beat LSU in Baton Rouge so they shouldn't be awed by ... OHIO STATE."

Notre Dame at Purdue—the Irish closed out the 1960s with three straight losses to Purdue and dropped seven of 10 to the Boilermakers during that decade. In addition, the Irish haven't won at Purdue in the last four tries. However, this is the '70s, as last year's 48-0 rout proved. NOTRE DAME.

Texas Tech at Texas—the Red Raiders thought this was their year, but the offense hasn't been able to get untracked against Tulane or New Mexico. Texas could be in trouble if quarterback Eddie Phillips, on crutches early in the week with an injured toe, is sidelined. TEXAS.

UCLA at Michigan—Last week, Texas ripped UCLA for 422 yards on the ground while Michigan churned out 485 against Virginia. It never rains but it pours for Pepper Rodgers. MICHIGAN.

Alabama at Florida—What's wrong with the Gators? "Fumbles, interceptions and missed tackles," says Coach Doug Mincey. With revenge in mind after last year's 46-15 battering, here's the upset special of the week. FLORIDA.

Oklahoma at Pitt—The Sooners were bumped from the Top Ten despite a 30-0 trouncing of Southern Methodist and they'll be hoping mad to get back in. They're two-touchdown favorites and that could be a

Brown Sees Tough Fight With Steelers

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Bengals, who haven't lost a game this year, will have "every psychological advantage" against them in their contest Sunday, Coach Paul Brown feels.

The Bengals will travel to Pittsburgh to play the Steelers who fell to the Chicago Bears 17-15 Sunday following a fumble in the closing minutes.

When the Bengals defeated the Steelers 20-13 in a pre-season game, Cincinnati line-backer Bill Bergey injured quarterback Terry Bradshaw with a jarring tackle.

And Brown said that the newspapers in Pittsburgh are "starting to categorize us as mean and rough." He said the reference, in part, was to the Bergey play.

"On top of all this, this is a divisional game in which a victory means twice as much and a loss hurts twice as much," Brown continued.

"The Browns one-sided victory over Houston Sunday indicates just one thing: they have a good football team," he said about the division rival Cleveland Browns who swamped Houston 31-0.

Although the Bengals rolled over the Philadelphia Eagles 37-14, Brown said he was concerned about Cincinnati's being penalized 10 times for 122 yards since the team normally is called for few infractions.

At any rate, the Bengals will enter the game undefeated for the year. They won five and were tied once in the pre-season. And at the end of the 1970 season, they won seven straight before the Baltimore Colts dealt them a 17-0 loss in a playoff game.

Cold Showers For Prep Gridders

CINCINNATI (AP) — Larry Cox, football coach at Cincinnati Hughes High School, does not prescribe cold showers for his players, but they don't have any choice.

Hughes has a newly-constructed gymnasium with a locker room which does not have hot water. Cox said the building has not had hot water since it was opened in August.

"It wasn't so bad in August when it was hot," Cox said. "But now there's a nip in the air and it's pretty bad to take a cold shower. It's a heck of a thing to ask kids to do down and practice for a couple of hours and then come back and take cold showers."

Dallas-Fort Worth Move By Senators Is Approved

BOSTON (AP) — Owner Bob Short and his financially troubled Washington Senators are headed for the lush Dallas-Fort Worth area and the nation's capital faces a lack of major league baseball for the first year since 1901.

Short who claims to have lost $3 million since he purchased the club for a reported $9.4 million in 1968, won his fight to move late Tuesday night as American League owners voted 10-2 in his favor, with only the Baltimore Orioles and Chicago White Sox opposed.

League President Joe Cronin, who as a young player-manager led Washington to its last pennant in 1933, announced the action after a marathon meeting of owners, their top aides, attorneys and baseball commissioner Bowie Kuhn.

The transfer marked the second time in a decade that Washington has been voted out of baseball.

However, after the franchise moved to Minnesota in 1961, the league found another club for the capital by expanding.

"Being an old Washington ballplayer, I feel very sad there was no other alternative, but it is with pleasure we welcome Dallas-Fort Worth," Cronin said more than 13 hours after the meeting went behind closed doors.

Cronin said the transfer was conditional, but that merely appeared to be a formality.

The conditions include expansion of Turnpike Stadium in Arlington, between Dallas and Fort Worth, in the next two years and indemnity payment to the Texas League.

Those conditions were accepted by the American League.

In approving the franchise shift, the first since Charles O. Finley moved his Athletics from Kansas City to Oakland in 1968, the league owners rejected two Washington offers to purchase the Senators.

CHS Harriers Top Greenfield

Circleville High School cross country runners defeated Greenfield 15-7 Tuesday in a meet held here.

The Tigers, led by Steve Richards who was first over the two mile course, captured the first nine places in the meet.

Dick Liston was second, Jeff Robbins third, Glen Gillespie fourth, Paul Cupp fifth, Matt McGowan sixth, Joe McGowan seventh, Pete McDaniels eighth and Ed Riley ninth.

Jeff Hoffman, who was 11th in 11:53, was just a second behind Greenfield's best runner, Randy Carl.

Circleville is 3-0 for the season.

Booster Club Meets

The Circleville Athletic Booster Club will meet 8 p.m. Wednesday in the high school cafeteria to view movies of the Tigers-Teays Valley clash.

Jeff Groza, Dave Graham Make Marks

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The shadows of their famous football fathers lurks over them. Despite that, Jeff Groza and Dave Graham are making it in college football.

Young Groza, a freshman kicker and tight end for Ashland, Ohio, College, is the son of Lou Groza, the former Cleveland Browns kicking great and all-time National Football League scoring leader.

Dave Graham, a sub quarterback who does Miami of Ohio's punting and place kicking, is the son of Otto Graham, the ex-Browns passing whiz and late Washington Redskins coach.

Graham, a junior from New London, Conn., is four-for-four on extra point kicks and averaging 40 yards a punt for Miami this season.

An injury to regular Ashland kicker Larry Johnson gave Groza his chance in his first college game. The 190-pound six-footer from Berea, Ohio, made both of his placement tries in the opener.

"The pressure was much tougher in high school in my home town," said young Graham, a 6-2, 190-pounder.

"People expected me to be like my dad. Let's face it, I'm not the athlete he was," he said.

County Schools Ready For Friday Grid Action

All three county schools will be looking for their first victory of the 1971 grid wars Friday night and at least one has a good chance of coming away a victor.

Teays Valley and Logan Elm clash on the Ashville turf.

Westfall, meanwhile, plays host to East Clinton in their first home game of the young season.

Both the Vikings and Braves enter the game after suffering rough losses last Friday.

Teays Valley lost to Circleville's Tigers 36-6, but displayed an awesome toughness that slowed the CHS machine to an 8-6 halftime score.

"We were depressed after the Circleville game," related Viking coach Dick Kidwell, "but after reviewing films of the game Monday, we were pleased to see what a really good game we did play."

"Our offensive line impressed us, and we feel we're on the verge of jelling into a league contender."

Offensively, Kidwell plans the same basic power game that the Vikings have employed in their first two games. Traps by the offensive line and off-tackle power plays should prove a potent offensive threat against Logan Elm, Kidwell feels.

And he has the passing attack of sophomore quarterback

Terry Lambert. Lambert went 8 for 16 against Wehrle two weeks ago, and was the only offensive threat the Vikings could muster. Harassed by the Tigers, he was ineffective on 10 passes Friday.

To counter Teays Valley's rushing threat, Bob Stant, Logan Elm Brave mentor, plans to uncover the Notre Dame 4-4 defense that proved effective last year against the Vikings.

"We know the Vikings will run at our middle Friday," Stant said, "but we stopped their traps last year with the Notre Dame defense and I feel we can stop them this year."

A PATCHED-UP Logan Elm squad battled Carroll on even terms last Friday for the first half before finally bowing 26-0.

The Braves are coming to the Viking field Friday with five starters on the injured list — three from the backfield.

Logan Elm injured include left halfback Rick Blankenship, who suffered a knee injury; right half Ken Kurtz, who is resting a pulled leg ligament; Greg Justus, Kurtz's replacement against Carroll and voted the offensive player of the game, is suffering a groin injury; fullback Wertie Teets is out with an ankle injury; tackles Steve Pusey and Dan Dean, are both sidelined by bad knees.

Offensively, Stant hopes the Braves can gain ground on Teays Valley from their wishbone set by running outside, with occasional jolts at the center of the line and quick passes.

On the other side of the county, Westfall coach Bill

Vance is trying to prepare his patched-up Mustangs for an East Clinton invasion.

The Mustangs, victims of Madison Plains 32-6 Friday, will be operating with three starters as doubtful players in the tilt.

Quarterback Dave Shannon, who piloted his team to a strong showing against Madison Plains, suffered a broken thumb on his throwing hand and could see only limited action Friday.

FULLBACK Larry Harris is suffering a groin injury and Randy Long has 7 stitches on a head cut.

"The team is concerned over the loss last week, but we're not really down," Vance claims.

East Clinton sports a 1-1 record coming into the contest. They lost to Union 10-0 in their first game and rebounded to crush Western 48-0.

According to Vance, East Clinton is a running team with a strong ground game. They employ a confusing multiple set offense and an equally strong 4-4 multiple set defense.

Vance feels his charges can gain ground off tackle and around the ends of the big Clinton team.

Grid Forecaster Sees Ohio State Over Colorado

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Around the University of Tennessee this week the password is "War Eagle."

"Normally, 'War Eagle' is the battle cry of the Auburn Tigers—the origin is kind of fuzzy and you can hear a number of histories—who invade Knoxville on Saturday for an early season Southeastern Conference showdown with the Volunteers."

The Tigers are fifth and the Vols ninth in The Associated Press rankings. A year ago, Tennessee finished fourth and Auburn 10th, but the Tigers spoiled UT's otherwise perfect season with a 36-23 triumph.

"That loss has stuck in their craw," says Shug Jordan, Auburn's coach, "and you can't over rule out the psychological, emotional side of football."

It will be Auburn's explosive Pat Sullivan-Terry Beasley aerial attack against Tennessee's veteran defense. Armed with the knowledge that it's usually suicide to pick against the home team in the SEC... AUBURN.

Colorado at Ohio State—the first-ever meeting between the Buffs and the Bucks pair two more Top Ten teams, No. 6 Ohio State and No. 10 Colorado. New quarterbacks have been impressive, Don Lamka for Ohio and Ken Johnson and Joe Deenas for Colorado. The Buffs beat LSU in Baton Rouge so they shouldn't be awed by... OHIO STATE.

Notre Dame at Purdue—the Irish closed out the 1960s with three straight losses to Purdue and dropped seven of 10 to the Boilermakers during that decade. In addition, the Irish haven't won at Purdue in the last four tries. However, this is the '70s, as last year's 48-0 rout proved. NOTRE DAME.

Texas Tech at Texas—the Red Raiders thought this was their year, but the offense hasn't been able to get untracked against Tulane or New Mexico. Texas could be in trouble if quarterback Eddie Phillips, on crutches early in the week with an injured toe, is sidelined. TEXAS.

UCLA at Michigan—Last week, Texas ripped UCLA for 42 yards on the ground while Michigan churned out 485 against Virginia. It never rains but it pours for Pepper Rodgers. MICHIGAN.

Alabama at Florida—What's wrong with the Gators? "Fumble interceptions and missed tackles," says Coach Doug Mackey. With revenge in mind after last year's 46-15 battering, here's the upset special of the week. FLORIDA.

Dalhousie at Pitt—The Sooners were bumped from the Top Ten despite a 30-0 trouncing of Southern Methodist and "I'll be hoping mad to get back in. They're two-touchdown favorites and that could be a little high if Pitt's opening win over UCLA was not fluke. In a close one... OKLAHOMA.

Oregon at Stanford—The Ducks already have lost at Nebraska and start a three-week trek to Stanford, Texas and Southern Cal. Home will look good after that journey. STANFORD looks good this week.

Texas Christian at Washington-Look for aerial fireworks with TCU's Steve Judy and UW's Sonny Siskiller on the firing line. The scoreboard may never be the same. WASHINGTON.

Louisiana State at Wisconsin—Tommy Casanova, LSU's All-American cornerback, has a pulled muscle and may not play. That would be good news for Wisconsin's already strong passing game. The Tigers have a rifle arm of their own in Bert Jones. SHAKILY... LSU.

Rutgers at Princeton—The 62nd meeting of the teams that started this whole madness back in 1869. The Tigers have an experienced team for the first time since they junked the T-Formation in 1969. They also have the No. 3 running back of 1970, Hank Bjorklund. PRINCETON.

Jeff Groza, Dave Graham Make Marks

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The shadows of their famous football fathers lurk over them. Despite that, Jeff Groza and Dave Graham are making it in college football.

Brown Sees Tough Fight With Steelers

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Bengals, who haven't lost a game this year, will have "every psychological advantage" against them in their contest Sunday, Coach Paul Brown feels.

The Bengals will travel to Pittsburgh to play the Steelers who fell to the Chicago Bears 17-15 Sunday following a fumble in the closing minutes.

"It's their home opener and they're coming off a bitter game that they actually gave away," Brown said Tuesday.

When the Bengals defeated the Steelers 20-13 in a pre-season game, Cincinnati line-backer Bill Bergery injured quarterback Terry Bradshaw with a jarring tackle.

Although the Bengals rolled over the Philadelphia Eagles 37-14, Brown said he was concerned about Cincinnati's being penalized 10 times for 122 yards since the team normally is called for few infractions.

At any rate, the Bengals will enter the game undefeated for the year. They won five and were tied once in the pre-season. And at the end of the 1970 season, they won seven straight before the Baltimore Colts dealt them a 17-0 loss in a play-off game.

Jeff Hoffman, who was 11th in 11:53, was just a second behind Greenfield's best runner, Randy Carl.

Circleville is 3-0 for the season.

Tom Hayes Named NFL Defensive Star

ATLANTA (AP) — Four years ago Tom Hayes was ending a two-year hitch in the Army, hoping to get a job but never dreaming he would some day start a National Football League game.
Hayes intercepted two passes, recovered a game-clinching fumble and triggered a late-minute brawl in which players from both sides began swinging fists in Atlanta's 20-17 upset victory.
For his performance, Hayes was named Tuesday as The Associated Press NFL Defensive Player of the Week.

HAS KICK OF A MUHL-MANN! — The German-born place-kicker of the Cincinnati Bengals, Horst Muhlmann, has his family with him this year — from West Germany, and the one big happy family is seen in Cincinnati, O. Horst, born in Dortmund, Germany, is in his third year with the Bengals and first was alone in U.S.

Dodgers And Giants Both Lose Games

By KEN RAPPOPORT

The San Francisco Giants and Los Angeles Dodgers continue to play like broken records, spinning around in circles and going nowhere very fast.

It is possible the Atlanta Braves can still walk away with the National League's Western title? Well, it's highly unlikely—but not impossible—considering the way the Giants and Dodgers have been playing lately.

The Giants held onto a 1 1/2-game lead over the Dodgers in the wild, wild West despite themselves as they lost their 13th game in the last 16, a 3-1 decision to the Houston Astros Tuesday night.

The Dodgers also continued their inept play as they dropped a 9-3 contest to the Cincinnati Reds for their fifth loss in seven games.

The third-place Braves, meanwhile, kept their dim title hopes alive with a 5-2 victory over the San Diego Padres. The Braves moved within six games of San Francisco and in order to win the West, must take all their remaining six contests while hoping the Giants lose their last eight and the Dodgers slump badly.

Los Angeles Manager Walt Alton was rock-steady despite the latest loss.

"We're going to beat the Giants," said Alton. "I don't care what the margin is—one game or six. We'll still beat 'em."

San Francisco Manager Charlie Fox, meanwhile, wasn't so confident: "We're just not hitting the ball, period."

In another top National League game, the St. Louis Cardinals beat Pittsburgh 6-4 as the Pirates failed for the second time to nail the Eastern Division pennant. The Pirates still need just one victory to cinch the title.

Elsewhere, the Chicago Cubs downed the New York Mets 3-0 and the Philadelphia Phillies whipped the Montreal Expos 5-4 in the first game of a two-night doubleheader before losing the nightcap 4-3.

Rookie catcher Larry Howard was the difference for Houston, lashing a two-run, tie-breaking homer in the seventh inning off San Francisco starter John Cumberland.

The ball cleared the 406-foot marker in center field.

"I tried to get it inside," said Cumberland, "but I missed by six inches and that was the ballgame."

"That guy really clobbered the ball good," said Fox, whose own team hasn't been hitting the ball too well. The Giants have averaged only five hits per game in the last 17 outings. Cincinnati's Lee May murdered Los Angeles with a home run and double, good for five runs batted in.

"There's nothing cheap about those Cincinnati runs," said Alton, "they hit us far too good. When you get behind 9-0, there's not much you can do."

May's three-run homer, his 38th clout of the season, capped a four-run fifth inning and then the brawny first baseman knocked in two more with a double in a three-run sixth.

Hank Aaron's 46th home run, a career high, plus a two-run shot by Darrell Evans and a solo blast by Ralph Garr led Atlanta over San Diego.

Aaron's first-inning homer, which put the Braves in front 1-0, erased a previous high of 45 with the old Milwaukee Braves in 1962. Evans unloaded a two-run shot in the second and Garr hit a homer in the third.

Jose Cruz broke a tie with a two-run homer in the seventh as St. Louis downed Pittsburgh.

Rookie Burt Hooton pitched a two-hitter and Ron Santo ripped his 300th career homer as Chicago beat New York. Pitcher Billy Champion capped a five-run seventh with a two-run double as Philadelphia beat Montreal in the opener and Bob Bailey knocked in four runs to bring the Expos the second-game victory.

For the price of a new Skylark 350 you can own a Buick.

You'll find Buick's Skylark in a price class you're very used to. But with a lot of things that might be very new to you.

Like Buick comfort. The rich cloth seats standard in our new Skylark 350. Thick carpeting. Even a deluxe steering wheel.

And the Buick ride. Smooth and quiet.

Plus Buick engineering and performance. A standard 350-cubic-inch V8 that's responsive, yet economical. With Buick technical advances like nickel-plated engine exhaust valves and a semi-closed cooling system.

This year, perhaps more than ever before, you ought to consider getting all this Buickness. Especially when you can get it Skylark-priced.

1972 Buick Skylark.

RESOLUTION NO. 53-71
A RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO A 2 MILL TAX LEVY TO RE-MODEL AND RESTORE CITY HALL.

WHEREAS the amount of taxes which may be raised within the ten mill limitation will be insufficient to provide an adequate amount for the necessary requirements of said City of Circleville, Pickaway County, Ohio; therefore be it

RESOLVED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF CIRCLEVILLE, OHIO:

SECTION 1: That two-thirds of all members elected thereto concurring that it is necessary to levy an additional tax in excess of the ten mill limitation for the benefit of the City of Circleville, Ohio, for the purpose of remodeling and restoring City Hall at a rate not exceeding 2 mills for each one dollar of valuation, which amounts to $2.00 for each one hundred dollars of valuation for a period of 5 years.

SECTION 2: That said levy be placed upon the tax lists of the current tax year in compliance with the provisions of Ordinance No. 53-70, as amended, and the earliest period allowed by law.

APPROVED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF CIRCLEVILLE, OHIO:

(S) Joseph F. Bell
President of Council
PASSED: September 7, 1971
ATTEST: (S) Robert J. Shadley
Clerk of Council
APPROVED: September 10, 1971

ATHLETICS SOON TO HEAR BIRDIES SING—And the Orioles, if you will, are ready for the A.L. playoff with Oakland, starting in Baltimore October

2. Manager Earl Weaver's cast is about the same as last year, headed by pitchers Jim Palmer and Dave McNally and the Robinson set, Brooks and Frank.

McNally, Orioles Top Yanks, 5-0

By BERT ROSENTHAL
Associated Press Sports Writer
If the Baltimore Orioles win the American League's East Division title for the third straight year—and their clinching number now has been reduced to three—it is likely they will pitch Dave McNally against Oakland's fighting West Division champions and A's ace Vida Blue in the league's opening playoff game Oct. 2 at Baltimore.

Baltimore. Baltimore more Manager Earl Weaver indicated his preference toward using McNally in the first playoff game after the veteran left-hander tamed the New York Yankees 5-0 on five hits Tuesday night for this 20th victory of the season.

McNally, the winningest pitcher in Oriole history with 134 victories, is the first American Leaguer to win at least 20 games in four consecutive seasons since the Yanks' Red Ruffing did it from 1936-39. And the Orioles' southpaw did it this year despite missing 38 days of the season because of an inflamed muscle in his pitching arm.

The Orioles, victory, coupled with Detroit's 3-2 10-inning loss to Boston reduced Baltimore's title-clinching number to three over the second-place Tigers.

The Orioles lead Detroit by 7½ games. They have eight games remaining to the Tigers, seven.

Meanwhile, Oakland, having already wrapped up the West title, lost a fight-marred two-night doubleheader with Chicago, the White Sox winning the opener 5-1 and the second game 6-2.

The Washington Senator trounced Cleveland 9-1 before the league's owners approved the moving of their franchise to the Dallas-Fort Worth area.

Kansas City defeated California 6-2 and Milwaukee downed Minnesota 4-2.

McNally, 20-5, moved the Orioles closer toward clinching the East championship by shacking the Yankees on seven strikeouts and only one walk. Paul Blair's fourth-inning homer gave the Orioles an early lead. They added three runs in the eighth on Andy Etchebarren's bases-loaded single and Dave Johnson's steal of home. Afterward, Weaver hinted

who has not been effective recently. Weaver, however, did emphasize that he preferred to open with a left-hander in an attempt to neutralize Oakland's left-handed hitting Reggie Jackson, and possibly get southpaw swingers Rick Monday and Mike Epstein out of the A's lineup, provided Manager Dick Williams continues his platooning system.

Trevino Listed Favorite For Robinson Open Golf

ROBINSON, Ill. (AP) — Super Mex Lee Trevino hasn't added to his money total in almost two months but he's back in shape and the solid favorite against a watered-down field in the $100,000 Robinson Open Golf Tournament that starts Thursday.

"Oh, you know me," Trevino chuckled before a practice round today over the 6,585 yard, par 71 Crawford County Country Club course. "I've got to play a lot before I'm going to do anything."

The squat, swarthy 31-year-old stunned the golfing world with a never-before-accomplished sweep of the American-Canadian-British Open titles two months ago.

But since then has come a slump, vacation, emergency operation, time off, slow recovery.

He pushed his money total to $197,219 with a victory in the Canadian Open, more than two months ago. He won the British Open the next week, but that prize doesn't count on his money-winning total.

He missed a couple of cuts, had that emergency appendectomy, came back, missed some more cuts, won $5,000 in the World Series of Golf. But that doesn't count either. He collected $1,000 last week in the Ryder Cup victory against Great Britain—but that doesn't count either.

But Trevino, weak and wobbly from the after effects of the operation, served notice he's ready to go again in his performance against Britain's best in the Ryder Cup competition last week.

Norm Bulaich Tops In NFL Offense

NEW YORK (AP) — "I guess that's my best game since the eighth grade," said a weary Norm Bulaich of the Baltimore Colts.

His game—a Colts' single-game record 198 yards on the ground despite a muddy field, a squadron of New York Jets defenders, a cracked helmet and a sprained ankle—was more than enough to win him recognition today as Offensive Player of the Week in the National Football League.

Lamport, Niezgoda Top MAC Players

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—"With time, he'll be a superstar," Bowling Green Coach Don Nehlen says of Mid-American Conference offensive football player of the week Reid Lamport.

Lamport, a sophomore from Newton Falls, Ohio, who had been Bowling Green's No. 3 quarterback, hit 13 of 20 passes for 162 yards and one touchdown in the Falcons' 20-19 upset of Ohio University.

Toledo linebacker John Niezgoda was named conference defensive player of the week by a panel of newsmen. Niezgoda, a senior from Toledo, had 12 solo tackles and 10 assists in the Rockets' 10-7 verdict over Villanova.

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — They call him "Sugar Bear" and he was a tumbling standout in high school. But for the Oklahoma football team, the only tumbling action big defensive end Raymond Hamilton is seeing is from the ground up.

Hamilton spent a lot of time last Saturday standing over Southern Methodist ball carriers in No. 11 ranked Oklahoma's 30-0 victory.

The 6-foot-2, 237-pound junior made seven unassisted tackles, threw SMU backs three times for losses totaling 28 yards.

For his efforts, Hamilton was named the Associated Press national college football lineman of the week.

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
When Bobby Moore arrived on the Oregon campus in 1968 he was hailed by Coach Jerry Frei as "the finest athlete we have ever recruited."

Then things got better.

The 6-foot-2, 212-pound tailback—he played flanker as a sophomore—reached his peak last Saturday in a 36-29 victory over Utah. He carried the ball 27 times for a school record 249 yards and caught three passes for 89 more, including one of 34 yards for a touchdown. His rushing set up four other Oregon touchdowns.

For that performance, the senior from Tacoma, Wash., was named national college Back of the Week today by The Associated Press.

Reds Slash Dodgers; Win 9-3

CINCINNATI (AP) — "Man it doesn't look like either one of them want it," said Cincinnati Reds first baseman Lee May of the Dodgers-Giants fight for the western division title in the National League.

May, with a home run and a double, blasted Dodger pitching for five runs as the Reds walloped the contenders 9-3.

San Francisco maintained its 1½ game lead over LA losing 3-1 to the Houston Astros.

"I have extra incentive playing teams like LA and Frisco, but I don't care who wins," May continued. "LA doesn't look like the same club. They've got to be a little tight. But by the record, they have more pitching depth."

"I didn't like the way we played," said Dodger pilot Walter Alton. "It was one of those games for a fellow that everything goes wrong. We didn't have much of anything — no hitting, no pitching and no defense."

"We're out to win though. I don't care if it's by a margin of one game or six."

"When you get behind 4-0 there's not much you can do."

Alton jerked starter Claude Osteen after May cracked his homer with two on in the fifth inning. John Bench had homered with none on in the second inning.

SHOCKED — That's what Alex Karras told newsmen in Detroit after he was cut by the Detroit Lions in a big surprise. The veteran defensive tackle, in his 13th year in the NFL, still had two years remaining on a seven-year contract. He said that there were "other factors involved" in the cut.

Inductions Into Army To Resume

125 Magic Number
For Draft Calls,
Officials Believe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Men with low draft numbers who have lost their deferments—primarily students graduated from college in June or dropouts—are expected to be the first called when the Selective Service resumes inductions.

Draft officials gave no indication when the first men would be called, but said men would be in uniform within two weeks after President Nixon signs the draft measure approved Tuesday by the Senate.

Nixon is expected to quickly sign the bill extending the Selective Service System.

The impact of other major provisions of the act will be slow to materialize, officials said. Included are the phasing out of undergraduate deferments, the right of a man to present witnesses before his board, requiring a local or appeal board to have a quorum when hearing a registrant, and lowering the maximum length of time on boards from 25 to 20 years.

Pentagon officials have said that about 20,000 draftees would be needed during the remainder of the year, including a 16,000 July-August request left hanging when the draft authority expired June 30.

That would bring this year's total to less than 110,000, the smallest callup since 107,500 were drafted in 1964. When the draft was suspended the Pentagon had asked for 88,000—aside from the July-August 16,000 call—and the draft boards had provided 83,000.

Selective Service officials said nearly every qualified man with lottery no. 125 or lower would be called. Whether it will reach 140, the current limit for ordering preinduction exams, depends on the Pentagon manpower requirements.

The draft bill sets a limit of 130,000 inductions in the current fiscal year that began July 1 and 140,000 in the next fiscal year, both well above this year's expected callup.

Ohio House . .

school districts, guaranteeing them assistance if they could pass emergency levies before Nov. 20.

At least 22 school districts could have qualified for the financial boost.

"Many of their financial problems have grown out of long-standing Legislature approved authority to borrow on anticipated school foundation payments to make ends meet.

The problem, remarked one legislator, "is that their credit just ran out."

The Finance Committee also discarded language in the bill setting a $170 ceiling on undergraduate student fees at state universities. The action conforms Ohio law to policy decisions made by the Ohio Board of Regents Friday permitting universities to establish new fee rates to avert a critical financial pinch in higher education.

Action on the interim appropriation must be taken before Sept. 23, the day first school foundation payments are to be made.

Conference committee agreement and approval by both assembly chambers is expected today.

In other legislative action: L —The House Environmental and Natural Resources Committee turned back efforts to recommit six-month-old omnibus strip mine legislation to a subcommittee for further study, but failed to act on a series of amendments still pending on the proposal.

—The Senate passed a bill increasing the regulatory powers of the Ohio Department of Insurance over the title insurance industry.

There appeared to be no movement on permanent tax and budget issues for the biennium that have occupied the Senate for the summer and the entire Legislature since March.

Military Hardware Bill In For New War Of Words

WASHINGTON (AP) — After a long, long debate, the Senate has decided to extend the draft, but another war of words looms over the controversial $21 billion bill for military hardware.

Behind the torrent of words, the talk of young men or mangled bombers, pay raises or payloads, the issue remains the same—how to force an end to U.S. involvement in Indochina.

are released, plans to try again, perhaps next week, sources said.

In the final version of the draft bill sent to President Nixon Tuesday, Mansfield's watered-down amendment calls on the President to negotiate a total withdrawal from Indochina "at the earliest practicable date."

But one Senate war critic, Democrat Mike Gravel of Alaska, said the vote Tuesday means any further effort this year to set a deadline for withdrawal will be futile.

"I don't think there is any real clout or muscle or backbone in the Senate this year to do anything," he told reporters. He noted conferees on the military procurement bill are senior members of the Senate and House Armed Services committees, likely to be the same as those who watered down the earlier Mansfield Amendment after the House rejected it.

"When it comes down the real crunch," Gravel said, "we'll have a recurrence of what went on today."

Telephone PR Men Address Lions Club

Dave Verbouwen, public relations manager of General Telephone, and Ken Barter, a PR man from Marion, addressed the Circleville Lions Club Tuesday evening at L-K Restaurant.

Highlight of the meeting was a direct line hook-up between the Circleville restaurant and a NORAD station in the Colorado Rockies.

Verbouwen and Barter also presented slides and a talk on directions of General Telephone and direct communications.

Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the Armed Services Committee and floor manager of both the draft and procurement measures, predicted the debate on the latter would take quite a while too.

In the past two years, consideration of the measure, which authorizes funds for major weapons systems and research and development, has lasted well over a month.

Jakarta Traffic Becoming Hectic

By FRANK N. HAWKINS JR.
JAKARTA (AP) — "It's terrifying. I'm afraid to go out," says a German lady living in Jakarta. "It's an outdoor insane asylum and only the inmates have vehicles," says an American.

The topic is a familiar one in this busy capital of 4½ million persons — Jakarta's wild and woolly traffic which seems to grow more hectic each day.

An editorial in the English language daily "The Indonesian Observer" gives only a partial picture. "Overtaking from the left side (Indonesians drive on the left), cars rushing on crowded zebra crossings, betjaks (three wheeled pedicabs) and pedestrians criss crossing through heavy traffic, devilish motorcycles, speeding buses and vehicles parked right in the middle of the street . . . are just a few examples of what one can expect to find almost daily . . . there are virtually no rules, manners or even the slightest consideration for safety on the road."

For those familiar with the situation, there can be no surprises. An old man on a bicycle calmly pedals down the fast lane of a six lane expressway — against the flow of traffic. Teenagers in their fathers' cars — often expensive ones with military license plates — race down the city's streets cutting in and out of traffic, squealing their tires around traffic circles, shooting over zebra stripes filled with frightened pedestrians. A policeman standing nearby barely notices.

Many streets are jammed with the thousands of betjaks that crowd the city. At one corner the frustration of drivers trying to fight their way through the crush is so great they ignore the stop light and drive on through. Others crowd in from other directions. Soon traffic is blocked and tangled from all sides with loud beeping of horns and others pushing in from behind.

City buses charge down the streets passing each other and racing to the corners to pick up passengers before pulling out into traffic again without warning.

Pedestrians pop out onto the street from all points. To drive without a horn would be suicidal.

"You feel like you are under attack from all sides at all times," complains one American. "This is where defensive driving was invented.

For anyone who learned to drive on the relatively disciplined highways of the Western world, it is a nightmare. Most foreigners and many Indonesians employ drivers to reduce their personal risks.

Basically, the problem is one of too many vehicles competing for too little space on too few streets. As the nation's economy continues to grow, an estimated 100 vehicles are added to Jakarta's streets each day and very few new streets are being built.

Police enforcement of the vague traffic rules is relaxed at best, partially because the police themselves seem unaware of what to do and because they are poorly equipped to deal with the problem.

Another factor is that anyone with access to a vehicle can drive it. Licenses are no problem. Payment of about $13 to a properly connected policeman and a week's wait can produce a valid license, without having taken any tests or training. Police checking city buses recently uncovered four drivers who did not even have licenses.

City statistics show traffic deaths in the city in the first six months of this year are up 26 per cent over the same period last year and the number of accidents is up 14 per cent. In the first half of this year, 104 persons were killed and 1,448 accidents were registered.

The city was aroused by the problem recently when a speeding bus flipped over on the city's main street killing one person and injuring 12 others. The incident was front page news in most of the city's papers. City officials immediately demanded reforms. Jakarta Governor Ali Sadikin ordered governors put on the buses holding them to 40 kilometers an hour. He also asked that drivers be given psychological tests before being licensed.

National Police Commander General Hugeng Imam Sant was so outraged that several days later he jumped out of his car and personally arrested a bus driver he saw stop at an unauthorized corner to pick up passengers.

Inductions Into Army To Resume

125 Magic Number
For Draft Calls,
Officials Believe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Men with low draft numbers who have lost their deferments—primarily students graduated from college in June or dropouts—are expected to be the first called when the Selective Service resumes inductions.

Draft officials gave no indication when the first men would be called, but said men would be in uniform within two weeks after President Nixon signs the draft measure approved Tuesday by the Senate.

Nixon is expected to quickly sign the bill extending the Selective Service System.

The impact of other major provisions of the act will be slow to materialize, officials said. Included are the phasing out of undergraduate deferments, the right of a man to present witnesses before his board, requiring a local or appeal board to have a quorum when hearing a registrant, and lowering the maximum length of time on boards from 25 to 20 years.

Pentagon officials have said that about 20,000 draftees would be needed during the remainder of the year, including a 15,000 July-August request left hanging when the draft authority expired June 30.

That would bring this year's total to less than 110,000, the smallest callup since 107,500 were drafted in 1964. When the draft was suspended the Pentagon had asked for 88,000—aside from the July-August 16,000 call—and the draft boards had provided 83,000.

Selective Service officials said nearly every qualified man with lottery no. 125 or lower would be called. Whether it will reach 140, the current limit for ordering preinduction exams, depends on the Pentagon manpower requirements.

The draft bill sets a limit of 130,000 inductions in the current fiscal year that began July 1 and 140,000 in the next fiscal year, both well above this year's expected callup.

Ohio House . .

At least 22 school districts could have qualified for the financial boost.

"Many of their financial problems have grown out of long-standing Legislature approved authority to borrow on anticipated school foundation payments to make ends meet."

The problem, remarked one legislator, "is that their credit just ran out."

The Finance Committee also discarded language in the bill setting a $170 ceiling on undergraduate student fees at state universities. The action conforms Ohio law to policy decisions made by the Ohio Board of Regents Friday permitting universities to establish new fee rates to avert a critical financial pinch in higher education.

Action on the interim appropriation must be taken before Sept. 23, the day first school foundation payments are to be made.

Conference committee agreement and approval by both assembly chambers is expected today.

In other legislative action: —The House Environmental and Natural Resources Committee turned back efforts to recommit six-month-old omnibus strip mine legislation to a subcommittee for further study, but failed to act on a series of amendments still pending on the proposal.

—The Senate passed a bill increasing the regulatory powers of the Ohio Department of Insurance over the title insurance industry.

There appeared to be no movement on permanent tax and budget issues for the biennium that have occupied the Senate for the summer and the entire Legislature since March.
